State W. C. T. U. Convention To Open Here On Tuesday

EXPECT 1200 WILL ATTEND PARLEY HERE

Vanguard Begins Arriving In City Today—Several Meetings Are on Today

WILL CLOSE FRIDAY

All Day Sessions Will Be Brought to End With Big Banquet In Church

FINAL PREPARATIONS to entertain the 1200 women expected here this week as delegates to the forty-eighth state W. C. T. U. convention to be held at the First Methodist church were completed today as chairmen of committees met with state officers at the church for luncheon. The convention opens tomorrow morning and closes Friday night with the annual state banquet. It is expected 1200 will be in attendance at the conclave.

Mail began arriving for the expected delegates this morning and the post-office established in the church promises to be a busy spot in what leaders predict will be the largest state convention of the organization ever to be held.

Decorations for the big auditorium were being put in place this morning and the cool room will be a pleasant place for the presentation of the interesting programs which have been prepared.

Rest rooms attractively furnished are being arranged and the delegates will register as they enter the building, headquarters for the state organization having been established in a large room near the south entrance to the main auditorium.

Today executive sessions of state officers will be held and routine business transacted.

Tomorrow afternoon special recognition will be given to all winners of the "upper tens." During a state membership campaign 830 women became members of the "upper tens" by each securing 10 new members for the union.

Convention seats were chosen this afternoon at the close of the official board meeting which convened at 1 p.m. The board of control meeting was scheduled for 5 p.m. today, and the executive committee will meet at 7 p.m. tonight.

Official meetings tomorrow will include that of the resolutions committee at 4:30 p.m. and the appropriations committee at 5:30 p.m.

The director of convention music will be Mrs. Allie Simmons Wheeler, Mrs. Anna Wheeler will be the convention accompanist and Mrs. Frances Davenport the patriotic instructor.

With the Orange County W. C. T. U. as the hostess committee the following chairmen will welcome delegates formally tomorrow: General chairman, Mrs. Estelle Harper, president of the Orange County W. C. T. U.; courtesy, Mrs. Sarah

2 AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS HELD BY OFFICIALS

Two Persons Killed, Seventeen Injured in Eight Weekend Mishaps

MURDER and manslaughter charges were being faced today by the drivers of two automobiles which figured prominently in two fatal crashes in the county yesterday, while reports from authorities and hospitals indicated that there were 17 other persons injured, several seriously, three drivers arrested in eight automobile crashes.

One man was killed in a crash at Huntington Beach, while a woman died at the Orange county hospital at 7:30 o'clock last night as a result of an automobile accident at First and Sullivan streets earlier in the day.

M. Duarte, 25, of Talbert, was in the Orange county jail, today booked on a murder charge, following the accident at Huntington Beach.

The Duarte machine, also occupied by Fermin Orozco, 27, Talbert; Marciana Palomares, 30, and Andres Ruiz, 25, single, suddenly left the road and turned over. The car was being driven west on Newland road, near Hampshire and Quincy streets, at Huntington Beach, when it was seen to turn suddenly towards the ditch, where it overturned and then righted itself. Witnesses said it rolled 50 feet before it turned back on its wheels.

Killed Instantly

Orozco was instantly killed, his head being horribly crushed. Ruiz suffered severe head injuries and his left ear was scraped from the side of his head, it was reported. Palomares suffered a fracture of the skull and is not going to live, it was reported, while Duarte, the driver of the machine, escaped with slight cuts and bruises.

The injured were taken to the Orange County hospital, where it was said their condition today was satisfactory. Palomares was reported unconscious.

Orozco's body was taken to the Dixon Funeral parlors, where Coroner Charles D. Brown has called an inquest for late this afternoon. Duarte had not been arraigned in court today. He was arrested several hours after the accident by Jess Buckles, deputy sheriff, who made an investigation.

All of the men were employed on the E. G Plaven ranch at Greenville.

S. A. Woman Killd

Mrs. Antonia Magana, of 910 East Walnut street, mother of five children, died at the Orange County hospital at 7:30 o'clock last night, of a fractured skull received several hours earlier when the car

DYNAMITE DAMAGES THEATERS IN NORTH

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 6.—(UP)—Fear of additional trouble centered on neighborhood theaters of Puget Sound cities was expressed by police here today as they attempted to determine who placed two dynamite charges that wrecked one and slightly damaged another theater here yesterday.

The front of the Community theater, owned by J. R. Porter, was blown out and flying debris damaged the interior when the first blast rocked that structure. It was believed that a bundle of dynamite had been placed in the box office. The explosion destroyed the projection room and machines, and spread debris throughout the theater.

A short time later, a smaller explosion tore a hole in the roof of the Sunset theater.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 6.—The annual convention of the American Legion beginning at Boston on October 6th, will be a notable event. As we get farther from the war and the veterans grow older their meetings have less of the aspect of a frolic of exuberant youth and become more the serious affair of mature and thoughtful men. Consequently, the Legion is more flourishing and holds a higher place in the esteem of all service men and of the public.

It is distinctly a patriotic organization. The support of American institutions is the chief object of its members. Because of them order and liberty are more secure. They are firm advocates of peace which they seek to promote through adequate preparation for national defense and the just and temperate conduct of a self-respecting people toward all the rest of the world.

Because the Legion has come into a position of great power and influence it has great responsibilities. It can set the standard for this generation in public thought and public duty. It can assume a leadership in peace scarcely less important than the service it performed in war. A grateful country looks to the Legion with increasing confidence.

ARIZONA ASKS INJUNCTION ON BOULDER WORK

Suit Filed Today in Supreme Court Against Six West States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(UP)—The state of Arizona asked the supreme court today to enjoin construction work on the Boulder canyon dam, the southwest's great irrigation and power project in the Colorado river.

A suit asking the permission necessary for one state to begin action against another was handed up soon after court convened for the fall session by Attorney General K. Berry Peterson of Phoenix. Accompanying the request was a copy of the complaint.

Defendants in the action are the states of California, Nevada, Utah, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming and Interior Secretary Ray Lyman Wilbur who is also described as "a citizen of California."

Both the Santa Fe compact, to which the defendant states are signers but which Arizona's legislators refused to ratify, and the Swing-Johnson bill, the congressional legislation which authorized the work, are attacked as unconstitutional.

Citing this claim, an injunction permanently restraining the defendants from carrying out the project is asked. No request is made for a temporary injunction to halt the work pending a determination of the case.

This omission was intentional in spite of the fact that the "original" cases of which this is one sometimes pend in the court for many years. It was explained that be-

DEATH TOLL IN CRASH OF HUGE DIRIGIBLE 47

Seven Members of Crew Escape But Four Are in Serious Condition

(By United Press)

THE WORLD'S largest airship, the British R-101, was forced down in a storm near Allonne, France, early Sunday morning and exploded. Forty-seven of its passengers and crew, including Minister of Air Lord Thomson, are dead of asphyxiation or burns. Seven men escaped, four of them seriously burned.

The ship left its base at the Royal Airship works, Cardington, Eng., at 7:46 p. m. Saturday on a flight to Karachi, India, the first in a series of inter empire flights planned by the British government after six years preparation in construction of the R-101 and the R-100 at a cost of many millian dollars.

Officials of the British air ministry, rushed to the scene by airplane, began an investigation of the disaster today. They were expected to examine the theories that (1) a broken fin which controlled parallel flight rendered the ship helpless ir the storm; (2) the Diesel engines were at fault; (3) ship's instruments, particularly the altimeter, were not functioning properly; (4) the ship's structure broke under a strain on parts where an "insert" was made recently to increase her size, gas capacity, and lifting power.

Sudden Disaster

England asked permission of the French government to return the bodies of the victims to England as soon as possible.

The suddenness of the disaster that overtook the dirigible R-101 was illustrated in the log of the ship, received by radio at the Royal Airship works in Cardington.

There was no hint that the ship was in danger, and the first news of the tragedy was sent by the

MATE ON OIL SHIP WOUNDED BY BANDIT

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Oct. 6.—(UP)—John Preller, 54, third mate on the Union Oil tanker Montebello, was in a hospital here today suffering from a severe pistol wound inflicted under his right eye by a bandit he found rifling the ship's strong box Sunday.

The robber boarded the Montebello while it was in dry dock. After struggling with Preller and wounding him, the man bound the mate and escaped with some valuables.

More Judges For Federal Districts Urged by Hughes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(UP)—Rearrangements of federal court districts and creation of additional judgeships in five districts have been recommended as a means of relieving increasing court congestion in various sections of the United States.

The recommendation was in a report of 10 circuit court judges, made public by Chief Justice Hughes after their annual conference last week.

Additional judgeships were urged for the southern and western districts of New York, Northern Georgia, eastern Michigan and West Virginia.

Infers Rolph Present As Wine Served

Intimates Mayor Gave Approval For Wet Festival In City Room

OVER 400 PERSONS were present at the service of the Men's Community Bible class at the Fox West Coast theater yesterday morning to hear a message from Milton K. Young, candidate for governor, concerning his position on prohibition and its enforcement. Young made a definite stand for enforcement and challenged all citizens of the county who believed in the great principles involved to forget party ties and stand on principle in the election, which he declared would be a crucial point in the battle for repeal.

Young, who was introduced to the great crowd by H. C. Head, prominent attorney and member of the board of trustees of the First Christian church, raised the issue on prohibition between his stand and that of his opponent, Mayor James Rolph, of San Francisco, by asking several very pointed public questions of Rolph, which he suggested that Mayor Rolph answer before the voters of the state.

"This is a wet and dry fight, a fight against law and order on one side and for it on the other, in which religion and public decency is also involved," the speaker asserted. "I should like to publicly ask some questions of Mayor Rolph and ask him to answer them. First, have you observed the Eighteenth amendment during the time it has been in force? Have you observed the Eighteenth amendment at any time during the period?"

Mr. Young then interpolated with the statement that the people of San Francisco do not know that the Eighteenth amendment has been enacted and that things are wide open in the bay city, and continued with his questions for Mayor Rolph—"Why has the Eighteenth amendment not been enforced in the city and county of San Francisco, of which you are the head? If you are elected governor of the state of California will you enforce the law any better than you have in San Francisco?

"Just a few days ago a man came into my office and gave me information on which I base the following question: Is it true that on August 24, at a festival held in a public building in San Francisco, use of which required your approval, and which you attended, six barrels of white wine were publicly served?"

Mr. Young opened his address with the statement that his message was on the most important subject before the American people today and that the fight was on in the nation on prohibition

LEGIONNAIRES HEAR ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT

Plea For Law Observance Made By Hoover at Boston Convention

ARENA, BOSTON, Oct. 6.—(UP)—A plea for law observance was delivered to the American Legion convention here today by President Hoover.

Throughout his speech to the World war veterans he stressed the necessity of good citizenship not only by respect for the law but by using the ballot to preserve American institutions and ideals, driving out unworthy public officials.

Without mentioning prohibition by name he told the Legionnaires no man dares to call himself a faithful American and suggest any disrespect for law.

Assuring them that the peace of the nation was never more secure and that the government is providing a $900,000,000 annual outlay for all veterans, the chief executive told them that his sworn duty to enforce laws is also their obligation. He urged them as citizens to go back home and preach respect for law by word and action.

Respect For Law

"We need the teaching that the foundation of government is respect for law," he said. "Quickened interest on the part of the community can insist upon proper enforcement of law, can arouse public opinion while any condition of lawlessness remains unchecked in that community."

"The first high purpose you express," he said, "is to uphold and defend the constitution and to maintain law and order in the United States. Happily your ideal is my first and most sacred duty.

"As president of the United States I am sworn by the whole people to maintain the constitution and to enforce the laws. No man should dare call himself a faithful American and suggest otherwise.

"You have recognized that the upholding of the constitution and the enforcement of the laws, must, however, not rest upon government officials alone; it must rise from the stern demand and the loyal cooperation of good citizenship and individual responsibility to the community."

As in his Cleveland speech last week, the president pledged himself to the ideal of abolishing poverty, he pointed out "nearly half the globe is in a state of great unrest or a state of revolution."

Democracies built up from the war in which the Legionnaires fought are tottering or toppling, he suggested. Ours can remain secure only if citizens employ the opportunities of good citizenship, he said.

PITCHER'S BATTLE LOST BY GRIMES ALTHOUGH HE GIVES OUT BUT 5 HITS

Earnshaw Holds Cards to Three Hits and Is Taken Out for Pinch Hitter —Groves Ends Contest

CONTEST IS HOTTEST KIND

By FRANK GETTY
United Press Sports Editor

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—(UP)—The Philadelphia Athletics won the fifth game of the 1930 world series today on Jimmy Foxx's home run in the ninth inning, with Mickey Cochrane on base. The score was 2 to 0, and the American League champions now lead, three games to two.

Foxx's blow broke up a great pitching battle, and broke the heart of Burleigh Grimes, the aged spitball pitcher.

George Earnshaw pitched magnificently for the Mackmen, allowing only two hits in seven innings, until he was taken out for a pinch hitter. Lefty Grove finished the game and held the Cardinals safe, receiving credit for the victory.

Grimes also pitched a great game, allowing only five hits, but Foxx's long drive into the bleachers broke up the game, and the Cardinals had no punch left in their half of the ninth.

The game was the most thrilling of the series thus far, and was played under drizzling skies before 38,844 enthusiastic fans.

The A's threatened to score when they filled the bases in the eighth, but Grimes worked his way out of that hole only to come to grief in the ninth. Mickey Cochrane, first man to face him, was passed, and Foxx took hold of a spitball and hammered it in a high arc out among the left field fans.

BRIZIL REBELS MARCH NORTH

MONTEVIDEO Uruguay, Oct. 6.—(UP) — Revolutionary forces from the Brazilian state of Rio Grand Do Sul were reported entering the state of Santa Catharina today to lead a northward march into Parana state, enroute to Sao Paulo and Rio De Janeiro.

Strong federal troops were sent against them and a federal attack by cruisers from Rio De Janeiro was anticipated. Rebel preparations were r.shed to Porto Alegre, capital of Rio Grande Do Sul.

cause of the nature of the suit it would be likely to receive an early adjudication.

Arizona attacks the Santa Fe compact on several grounds. One is the apportionment equally of the Colorado's water between the upper and lower basins. Under the compact each gets 7,500,000 acre feet of water. In the lower basin, where Arizona is situated, 6,500,000 acre feet have already been appropriated, leaving only 1,000,000 for future development. The upper basin now uses only 2,500,000 acre feet, it is claimed, leaving it 5,000,000 for future use.

This last amount should be available to Arizona if needed in the future, the complaint states.

Further fault is found in the fact that 3,000,000 acre feet are left unapportioned and withdrawn from appropriation.

The congressional legislation is attacked as in excess of the powers of congress because it deprives the state of sovereign jurisdiction and control of its water and other natural resources, and vests them in the United States.

It further attempts to force the state to accept the Santa Fe compact without her approval and attempts to deprive the state and her citizens of the right to appropriate about 8,000,000 acre feet of water, the complaint charges.

The act is then criticized as unconstitutional in that it permits Secretary Wilbur to engage in the sale of water and power produced by Arizona's resources, to build a dam for the storage of waters belonging to the state which can only be recovered by her citizens by purchase, and in that it discriminated against Arizona in favor of California.

Claims of the act that the purpose of the project is to improve navigation and reclamation of public lands are described as "a mere subterfuge and false pretense" and the activities of the interior secretary in carrying out the project as a violation of the state's rights.

and the London naval agreement as "two momentous victories on the path of peace," he declared more is necessary.

But this does not mean we should weaken our national defense he hastened to assure his hearers.

Reminiscent of his successful fight with congress, against the original war veterans disability bill at the last session, the president spoke of what the government is now doing under substitute legislation he endorsed for the veterans. The care of 700,000 World war veterans is being provided, he said. But the veterans should have care that "demands upon the government should not exceed the measure that justice requires and self help can provide," he added.

The president pointed only briefly to the fact that the nation cannot escape tyranny except through the ballot box and that it is the duty of every citizen to exercise that privilege. "When he does not insist upon purity of elections he has lost democracy itself," he said.

The address was delivered from the same platform which Mr. Hoover occupied during his presidential campaign in 1928 when he expounded his tariff philosophy.

Dykes walked. It was Grimes' first pass. Cochrane up. Cochrane raised a high fly to Wilson who caught the ball standing on top of the plate. Simmons up. Simmons sent a long fly to right field which Watkins caught after a long run. It was a great catch by Watkins near the stands up. Foxx up. Strike one swung. Grimes threw to first base three times. Ball one inside. Strike two called. Ball two high. Foxx fanned swinging. It was Grimes sixth strikeout.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

CARDS—Hafey up. Strike 1 called. Foul strike two. Hafey was out on strikes. Watkins up. Foul strike one. Strike two swung. Foul. It was a line drive down right field line, foul by a foot. Ball one low. Ball two outside. Watkins sent a high fly to Simmons in short left. Wilson up. Ball on outside. Strike one swung. Foul strike two. Wilson lined a single to center and was safe at second when Haas played the ball slowly. The official scorer called a two base hit. It was a great piece of base running by Wilson. Gelbert up. Ball one ouside. Ball two outside. Ball three outside. Ball four. Gelbert was purposely passed on four balls. Grimes up. Strike one swung. Foul strike two. Grimes sent a high fly to Haas in right center. Haas made an excellent catch of the ball after a short run backward.

No runs, one hit. No errors.

EIGHTH INNING

ATHLETICS—Miller up. Ball one high. Ball two outside. Strike one called. Ball three outside. Strike two called. Miller grounded out Gelbert to Bottomley. Haas up. Haas bunted down third baseline and beat it out by a step. Grimes played the ball perfectly but Haas was too fast. Boley up. Ball one outside. It was a pitchout. Strike out swung. Haas stole second. The umpire called him out at first but reversed his decision when Frisch dropped the ball. It was an error for Frisch. Haas did not receive credit for a stolen base. The St. Louis players gathered around Umpire Geisel and protested bitterly. Boley grounded to Grimes and the ball caromed off his glove and he picked it up and made a play for Haas at third but the runner was safe. It was an infield hit for Boley. The game was held up while Mack got a pinch hitter ready for Earnshaw. Grove went to bull pen. Jim Moore up for Earnshaw. Ball one outside. Ball two outside. Strike one called. Ball three low. Moore walked filling the bases. Bishop up. Ball one inside. Bishop claimed the ball hit him but was overruled. Strike one called. Bishop grounded to Bottomley forcing Haas at the plate. Bottomley to Wilson. The bases were still filled. Dykes up. Ball one low. Strike one swung. It was a foul tip. Dykes grounded to Gelbert forcing Bishop at second. It was Gelbert to Frisch.

No runs, two hits, one error. Three left on bases.

CARDS—Grove now pitching for the Athletics. Douthit up. Ball one low. Ball two low. Strike one called. Douthit popped to Bishop behind second. Adams up. Adams grounded out Dykes to Foxx. Frisch up. He batted righthanded. Foul strike one. Ball one outside. Ball two outside. Frisch singled to center. Bottomley up. Strike one called. Strike two swung. It was a foul tip. Quinn and Walberg were in the bull pen for the A's. Ball one outside. Bottomley fanned swinging. It was the third time in succession he had fanned.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

NINTH INNING

MRS. G. W. LIGGETT CLAIMED BY DEATH

Mrs. Sonora E. Liggett, 65, passed away at her home on Tustin avenue yesterday. Funeral services will be held from the Smith and Tuthill parlors in Santa Ana Tuesday, at 2 p. m. Interment will be in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mrs. Liggett had been a resident of this district for the past 32 years. She was the wife of George W. Liggett and the mother of Mrs. J. A. Coleman, of Pasadena; Mrs. A. F. Allen and Mrs. Howard Barrows, of Santa Ana, and E. R. Liggett, of Fresno.

The construction between Redlands and Highland on Orange street is completed, according to a report received by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The road from Redlands to Oak Glen via Yucaipa is paved to Yucaipa, thence good dirt road to Oak Glen, notes the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

with the focal point now in California. He appealed to his auditors to free their minds of party ties and to think in terms of the Constitution and religion, as the question deeply affected both.

"The fight is raging against the Eighteenth amendment in many states on the Atlantic seaboard," he stated. "The source of the difficulty lies largely in the foreign and lawless elements of population in these eastern states that is standing against the amendment. The fundamental liberties and safety of the nation was and is cradled and nurtured in people such as comprise this audience.

"My opponent's wet proclivities are so pronounced that there is no need to ask where he stands on the question. His party did not even adopt a plank on the subject. He was nominated by a 36 per cent vote, with the dry candidates in his party—Gov. Young and Mr. Fitts—receiving 64 per cent of the vote. And one-third of the vote Mayor Rolph received was from wet Democrats.

"In good faith the drys cannot cast their votes for Rolph. Why should citizens who place principle above party vote for him? You who talk about being dry and who talk of principle, must either change or quit talking about these things.

"Martin Welch, the candidate for lieutenant governor on the same ticket on which I am running, is running as a wet. I denounce him as unhesitatingly as I do Mayor Rolph. His duty is to resign from the ticket and let Mr. Merriam be elected unopposed, if he will not support his party platform which has a plank calling for enforcement of the prohibtion laws.

"My policy if elected as governor of the state is that there will be enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment, Volstead act and Wright law such as has never before been attempted. When I undertake a cause I first ascertain if it is righteous, if it is I give it my support and continue to the last full measure of ability. Every man in public position owes it as a duty to his people to enforce the law and equally obey the law, whether he be mayor or governor.

"There is a constitutional way for repeal if that is what the people desire. But as long as it is law, it should not be nullified. It is the duty of every citizen to observe and uphold the constitution and the law.

California is a wonderful state and its record shows great achievements by its citizens. It is regarded as an outstanding state of the nation. If you believe the onward march of repeal should be stayed, be careful how you vote on Nov. 4. Put principle and patriotism above politics and vote so that repeal will not help be accomplished by California."

The candidate was introduced by Head as a man who was running on a dry platform and who had backbone enough to defy the men who sought violation of the Constitution.

Young's statements were warmly received by audience and waves of applause greeted his declarations of principles and issues.

W. B. Martin, class president, stated after the address that the class stood for prohibitions and law enforcement and that the platform was open to men in accord with these principles.

2 AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS HELD BY OFFICIALS

in which she was riding with her husband and the five children, collided with a car driven by Joe Balderrana, of 108 East Fourth street, Santa Ana, at First and Sullivan streets.

Balderrana was arrested shortly after the accident by Santa Ana police officers and is being held in the county jail booked for suspicion of manslaughter and for investigation, while city officers today carried on an extensive investigation into the crash.

All five children in the car were cut and bruised. They were not admitted to any hospital here, but needed medical attention for cuts and bruises received when their car overturned.

Joze Magana, the father and husband, suffred a severe scalp injury and cuts and bruises. He is in the Orange County hospital, where it was said his condition was not of a serious nature. Balderrana was cut and bruised.

The body of Mrs. Magana was taken to the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors last night, where Coroner Charles D. Brown will hold an inquest this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Three Women Hurt

Three women and a man, all residents of Long Beach, were cut and bruised yesterday morning, south of Laguna Beach, on the Coast highway when the car in which they were riding, driven by Mrs. Lizzie Hayhurst, 1636 Pacific avenue, overturned. Mrs. F. A. Torrance, of 3452 Magnolia avenue, Mrs. Vinnie Tufkin of 913 East State street and D. J. Harver, of 815 Elm street, were the others in the car who were injured.

A tire on a rear wheel of the machine blew out causing Mrs. Hayhurst to lose control of the machine, which plunged into a ditch where it overturned, according to a report made here by State Traffic Officers Brandfield and Meyer.

Another Arrested

One man was injured, seriously, and another was arrested on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, as the result of an automobile accident on Tustin avenue north of Santa Clara avenue at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

L. C. Malone, of 4237 New York avenue, Riverside, is in the Santa Ana Valley hospital, suffering from a fracture of the skull received when the car in which he was riding collided with a machine reported to have been driven by Fred Wheeler, 40, of 409 Lacy street, Santa Ana.

Wheeler was arrested later by Oscar Kelly, state traffic officer, and put in jail here. He was to have been taken to Orange today to answer to a charge of driving while intoxicated. No one else in the accident was reported hurt.

W. F. Rice, of 306 West First street, Santa Ana, was injured at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in a peculiar automobile accident. He was standing in front of a meat counter in a drive-in market at Chestnut and South Main streets, when a car, reported to have been driven by J. D. McInnes of 810 West Second street, jumped the curbing and crushed him against the counter before the car could be stopped.

Taken To Home

Rice was taken to his home where it is thought he suffered a fractured leg. Report of the accident was made at the city police station.

Harold V. Echols, 4 years old, of 1417 West Ninth street was cut and bruised, not seriously, when he was run down by an automobile driven by Frank F. Groover, of 1330 South Main street, at Fifth and Parton streets yesterday.

The child was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where he was kept until today and then removed to his home.

According to a report of the accident at the city police station, Groover had stopped for a boulevard and had just started his car when the child ran out in front of his machine from behind another automobile.

THE PHILADELPHIA Storage Battery Co., with 28 years of successful manufacturing business, decided in 1925 to market an all-electric radio. There was no "Splurge" nor "sensational claims" marking their entry into this highly competitive field—no unwarranted advertising program out of proportion to sales—just a conservative—logical—progressive program—building as fine a radio as possible, growing only as a good business should grow—a steady climb, gradually improving their set—taking every advantage to lower manufacturing costs without cheapening their product.

Philco engineers realized that to build a popular set that they must devote unlimited effort to produce a set that would not need servicing more than once in every two or three years, and by their latest survey find that less than 1% of the sets sold require service in the first 2 years.

In January, 1930, Philco introduced the automatic volume control to the radio industry and now approximately 60% of the radios priced at $250.00 and over are equipped with this marvelous new improvement that eliminates fading and cuts static and interference noises.

A QUALITY product has always been the policy of the Philadelphia Storage Battery Co., so whether you select the Baby Grand Philco at $69.50 or the Concert Grand at $372.00, you are assured that the best quality of material obtainable will be in your set.

A steady, healthy growth in 3 years, from 12th to 1st place and now running approximately 25% ahead of any other company in sales over the entire United States.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is the quality of your living and not the particular locality of the place in which you reside that determines whether you are becoming a fine character or a depraved being.

Translate this fact into the terms of eternity and you will cease to worry about definitions of Paradise and Heaven and Hell.

Because your dear one was devoted to all that is high and fine and sweet in life, you have no question that the life which that one now enjoys brings the highest satisfactions which one made in God's image could desire. That means happiness and peace.

BACHELORS OF JAYCEE STAGE BEACH FROLIC

Gathering for a beach party in honor of prospective members, 40 members and guests of the Brotherhood of Bachelors at the Santa Ana Junior college enjoyed a program and evening of fellowship Saturday night at the Ebell clubhouse in Balboa.

Warren Schutz, grand exalted bachelor, was in charge of the affair. The program included a talk on the origin of the brotherhood, by Bob Williams, senior exalted bachelor; another talk on the origin of Bachelor Sabbath, on which no member can speak to a woman, by Bill Reinhardt, sophomore class president; piano numbers by John Krowley, the introduction of the guests, and a short talk by Sheldon Hayden, public speaking instructor.

The feature of the evening was the showing of the motion pictures taken by Dean McKee Fisk, honorary member of the organization, on his trip through the Orient this summer.

Walter L. Scott, former faculty advisor of the club, was presented with an attractive desk ornament in the form of a miniature rolling pin as a standard. A silver plate was fastened on the rolling pin, the official club insignia, with appropriate words engraved on it. Scott gave a short talk of appreciation.

At a late hour, refreshments were served. Members of the general committee for the affair were Warren Schutz, Tom Cone, Bob Williams, Bill Crawford and "Sky" Dunlap.

RESIDENT HERE FOR 11 YEARS PASSES SUNDAY

Mrs. Estella Ward, resident of Santa Ana for 11 years, died yesterday, after a prolonged illness, at her home, 602 South Main street. Mrs. Ward, with her husband and family, came to California in 1906 and located on a ranch at Tustin. The family originally came from LaPorte City, Ia., and after a few years spent in Missouri, came to California. In 1919 they moved to Santa Ana and have since resided here. Mrs. Ward is survived by her husband, John E. Ward, three sons, Samuel J., Paul and Lewis; one daughter, Mrs. Neff Morrison; two grand-children, Gene Morrison and Alice Ward; three brothers, D. S. King, in Missouri; Clarence King, in Minnesota, and Roy King, in Iowa; four sisters, Rebecca Fox, of Kansas; Ida Baker, Glendale; Nettie Akins, Waterloo, Ia., and Lou Miles, Iowa. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. from the Smith and Tuthill chapel. The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate.

Report Theft Of Two Automobiles

Two automobiles were reported stolen from Santa Ana streets over the week end, neither of which had been recovered late today.

Jose L. Salgado, of 1810 West First street, reported the theft of his car from a place where he had parked it between Bush and Spurgeon streets Saturday afternoon, and John Dunham, of 504 North Lemon street, Orange, reported his machine was stolen about 8 o'clock Saturday night near Third and Bush streets, where he had parked it.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Society for the Ministry of Women, an inter-denominational body, made a statement here recently that it was greatly disappointed that the bishops have failed to recommend not only the admission of women to the priesthood, but the placing of deaconesses on the same footing as men deacons. Theological principals is the reason given for not accepting women as priests.

BURGLAR STEALS JEWELS, CLOTHING

A burglar, who took advantage of the fact that members of the family were away from home, robbed the house of C. G. Seamans, at 2232 North Broadway, Saturday between 1 and 4 p.m., stealing a number of pieces of jewelry and articles of clothing, according to a report made to the Santa Ana police.

Entrance into the house was made through the rear door, after a pass key had been used, it was reported.

A pair of trousers, a cameo ring, a tar pin with two small diamonds in it, a white gold wrist watch and a garnet pin were among the articles taken.

The thief used different tactics in his work than thieves who have kept the police busy here for the past several weeks on burglary jobs. This burglar was careful not to disturb anything in the house, it was reported. He overlooked a number of other valuable pieces of jewelry in his search.

Speich To Seek New Air Record

Vern Speich, Santa Ana aviator, will seek to break his own solo endurance record for non-refueling planes with single motors, he announced yesterday. His mark was made one year ago at the Long Beach airport, when he remained in the air for 39 hours and 38 seconds.

The aviator will fly under the aviation committee of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, using a Zenith biplane, he said. He will carry 514 gallons of gas. On his flight a year ago he carried 452 gallons of fuel.

Police News

An attempt to burglarize a cigar stand at 214 East Fourth street, late Saturday night, was unsuccessful, according to a report filed with the city police by Carl Schoenberger, owner of the stand. The place is protected by iron grating and two bars in the grating had been bent, it was reported.

Vern Kirk, who hails from San Francisco, he said, was lodged in the county jail Saturday night, after Santa Ana police officers had arrested him in the 1200 block on South Parton street when they found a half gallon of whiskey on his person, they reported. He was booked for possession of liquor.

Ernest Gracian, 31, E. S. Valles, 32, Tom Linam and Arthur Robinson, all of Santa Ana were arrested on drunk charges by city police over the week end.

Police were called to Bishop and Oak streets at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning, where they found a man lying in the street apparently dead. He was taken to the county jail, and charged with being "dead" drunk. He gave the name of Wilber Smith, 27, and said he lived in Long Beach.

Local Briefs

U. Grant B. Meyer, director of Valencia University, announced today that night classes in life drawing would start at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening in the class rooms in the Spurgeon Building. Mrs. Frances Townsend of Pasadena will be in charge of the classes.

Prominence of natural gas in industry, and particularly clay products, is being demonstrated at the office of the Southern Counties Gas company, by a novel working model of a tile and brick plant, actually operating with natural gas. Considerable attention has been attracted to the miniature display, as it is complete in every detail, and effectively shows how natural gas is aiding one of the important indusries of Southern California. The entire model plant, dry kilns, yard, buildings and general atmosphere, has been patterned after modern clay products plants now operating in this district.

Vienna Officers Must Weigh 115

VIENNA, Oct. 6. — (UP)—By the Austrian court of appeals the right of the police to pension off any number of the force whose weight drops below 115 pounds has been upheld.

A verdict to this effect was given when Johann Kleinedler, age 33, appealed against dismissal from the force because the semi-annual health examination of all policemen revealed that he was under this weight.

Mushroom Expert Eats Toadstools

FOUGERES, Oct. 6.—(INS)—Victor Cottin, mushroom expert, has just died in this little town by eating a toadstool. After spending a lifetime seeing to it that his compatriots were not mistaken in their fungi, Cottin died a death of poison.

Some of his friends believe that the mushroom master was experimenting with a new variety, hoping to provide a new delicacy for gluttons. Others fear that perhaps he took this method of ending his own life.

ANAHEIM DIAL PHONE SYSTEM IN OPERATION

"First calls" were made over the newly installed telephone hookups for Tustin and Anaheim on Saturday night, by Earl Morrow, district manager for the Southern California Telephone company; Mayor Miller, of Anaheim, Col. M. B. Wellington, of Tustin, and Lotus Louden, of Anaheim.

Morrow called Col. Wellington at 10 p. m. and informed him that merging of the Tustin exchange with that of Santa Ana, a project originally pushed by Wellington, was an accomplished fact.

Mayor Miller and Louden were first to talk over the new dial system there and their conversation stressed the forward looking policy of the phone company in installing the new system.

Anaheim is fast becoming a city of dialers. Almost everyone by now is familiar with the use of the dial. The new Orange county long distance system, with the Anaheim building for its central office, is also functioning satisfactorily and has speeded up the time of interchange calls.

Anaheim telephone traffic reached a high peak yesterday. Normally the average daily number of originating calls in Anaheim is around 12,000, but it is estimated that yesterday's total reached close to 20,000.

A dial exchange was also placed in service at Placentia Saturday night, and with the two new offices, Orange county now has six dial control officers in operation, the other four being Dana Point, Garden Grove, San Clemente and Buena Park.

Morrow stated that plans are now being made for an open house at the telephone building on Saturday. The public will be received from 10 a. m. until 9 p. m. and shown throughout the building.

PARIS, France—There have been wills made on envelopes, book covers, wrapping paper and other strange objects, but the one of M. Auguste Pasquier, which is to be filed for probate here soon, is the strangest will ever on record. The queer M. Pasquier thought he would compile his will in a manner no other had ever done, so he carved it on a leg of one of his dining-room chairs.

No Wonder It Was Hot; Thermometer Hits 107 In City

In case you didn't know it, the temperature in Santa Ana was 107 at 11:15 a. m., today, probably the hottest record ever established here for the month of October. Hill and Sons' thermometer registered 102 at noon, which also is enough of a record to bring some kind of distinction to this month.

At Hill and Son's it was stated that no one was able to recall any day as hot as this one in the past several years and no one ventured to say that there ever had been a hotter one during the month of October.

COOKING CLASSES TO REOPEN HERE

Reopening of Southern Counties Gas company's regular Tuesday cooking classes, which were discontinued during the summer months, will take place on October 7, at 2 p. m., according to Miss Isabel Allobach, home service director of the company, who will conduct the free classes.

Every woman in Santa Ana and adjacent territory has been invited to attend the classes, which will take up every phase of food preparation in the home. Classes will be held in the home service department, on the second floor of the company's building, located at 207 West Second street.

A feature of the opening day will be an entire oven cooked meal, which will include beef en casserole with crusty brown dumplings, golden glow salad and fruit cake. Miss Allobach, well known throughout Orange county as an expert home economist, will explain the various methods of preparing well balanced, appetizing menus. Special attention will be given to recipes which may be inexpensively prepared.

An attractive model kitchen has been installed on the stage in the home service department of the company, which has all the modern conveniences now being offered to progressive housewives. An additional service offered by the home service department will be home demonstrations, which may be arranged by appointment.

'AMERICA' BUT FEW HOURS FROM BERLIN

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—The "Bremen" and "Europa" take six days to reach America, but the German railroad only requires three hours from Berlin. One train goes by way of Cuestrin and arrives at the station "New America."

In the vicinity lie Yorktown, Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Saratoga, Annapolis, Havana, Savannah and Maryland. At the crossing of the two roads stands a sign post pointing the way to Hampshire, Ceylon, Sumatra, Florida and Jamaica. All these places are small villages in the eastern part of the Province of Brandenburg.

They owe their existence and their name to Frederick the Great. As a youth he was confined in the forest of Cuestrin for disobedience to his stern father, and saw the damage caused by the annual overflow of the Oder, Warthe and Netze rivers. Even then he conceived the idea of conquering a new province "with soldiers and cannons," as he later said, and in 1746-1753, he had the course of the Oder changed and settled over six thousand persons in 43 villages on the land thus gained. Twenty years later he added another 116 miles by reclamation of river lands.

Many of the peasant settled here had intended to immigrate to America, and the names of the villages were chosen with the king's approval.

Sore Throat?

Don't neglect a sore throat! It is uncomfortable at best, and can easily lead to something worse. Make a gargle of Bayer Aspirin. It will ease all soreness, and reduce the infection. But get the genuine Aspirin physicians endorse; look for the Bayer cross stamped on every tablet, thus:

REGISTRATION OF MINORS IS STARTED HERE

Deputy registrars have been appointed to make a house to house canvass of Santa Ana to secure a complete registration of minors, it was announced today by Herman I. Ranney, supervisor of attendance of the city schools.

According to state law, "The first full week in October in 1930 and the first full week in October every third year thereafter is designated as official registration week for minors under the age of 18 years," Ranney said.

"It is the duty of every parent, guardian or other person having control or charge of any minor under the age of 18, to give to the registrar of minors, his deputy or assistant, the information concerning his child or children indicated on the card," Ranney said.

"In order to receive a complete and accurate registration in one week, as required by law, the cooperation of every parent or guardian is needed."

BULLS AND 'WHIP' INJURE THREE AT FAIR ON SUNDAY

Three men were treated at the Orange County hospital over the week end for injuries received in peculiar ways at the Orange county fair grounds Saturday and Sunday. None of them was seriously hurt.

Charles Mulhall, 40, of 4673 Hollywood boulevard, Los Angeles, suffered two fractured ribs when he was thrown from a steer he was riding in the rodeo yesterday.

Bill Barnard, 27, suffered injury to his left side, and several possible broken ribs, when a steer he was chasing suddenly turned on his horse, throwing him to the ground and then pumping on him, it was reported. He was still in the hospital today.

Walter Rayer, of Santa Cruz, suffered injury to his left side when he was thrown from "The Whip," a riding concession on which he was working at the time. He was given first aid treatment at the county hospital.

radio station at Lebourget, France. It read:

"R-101 has caught fire!"

Messages received from the ship after she left Cardington at 7:36 p. m. Saturday follow:

"Over London, 8 p. m. Moderate rain. Base of low cloud at 1500 feet. Wind 24 degrees (from southwest). Strength 25 miles per hour. Course now set for Paris. Intend proceed via Paris, Tours, Toulouse, Sarbonne.

The next message was received at 10:16 p. m.

"At 9:35 GMT," it read, "crossing coast vicinity Hastings. It is raining hard and there is strong southwesterly wind. Cloud is at 1500 feet. After good getaway from mooring tower at 6:36 airship circled Bedford before setting course. Course was set for London at 6:54. Engines running well at cruising speed, giving 54.2 knots. Reached London 8 p. m. then set course for Paris gradually increasing height to avoid high land. Ship is behaving well generally and we already have begun to recover water ballast satisfactorily. Crew settled down to watch keeping routine."

Third Message

The third message arrived at 10:38. It read:

"Crossing French coast at Point St. Quentin. Wind 245 degrees true (southwest). Strength 35 miles an hour."

At 11 p. m. came the last message to be received here.

"Fifteen miles southwest of Abbeville," it reported. "Course and speed good. Thirty-three knots. Wind strength 35 M. P. H. Altimeter registers height 1500 feet. Air temperature 51 degrees F. Weather intermittent rain with numerous clouds at 50 feet (CQ).

"Conditions since departure similar and temperature uniform.

"After excellent supper our distinguished passengers smoked final cigar and having sighted French coast now have gone to bed to rest after the excitement of their leave taking.

"All essential services are now functioning."

Thereafter a routine message or two was heard from the R-101 at Croyden airdrome, outside London, and silence ensued. No further long report was expected to be signed by the call letters GFAAW, assigned to the dirigible, until 4 a. m.

But at 2:16 a. m., a single dramatic sentence was intercepted at Cardington. It was sent from the radio station at Lebourget and it read:

"R-101 has caught fire!"

Motorcycles Are Used By Thieves

Thieves and bandits have taken to motorcycles, according to reports made at the sheriff's office over the week end.

One call came from San Diego county to the effect that two men on motorcycles had staged a holdup on the highway, south of Orange county, and were headed this way on their "steeds," and another call came from San Juan Capistrano that a thief riding a motorcycle was started for Santa Ana. He is alleged to have taken a number of tools in the Mission city.

CANDIDATE IS MAIN SPEAKER AT INN DINNER

Milton K. Young, Democratic candidate for governor, spoke at a dinner in his honor at St. Ann's inn Saturday night, which was attended by a representative group of men and women from all parts of the county. Young took a definite stand on the side of the dry forces of the state in his address, questioned the party record of Rolph and pledged himself to the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment, the Volstead law and the Wright act.

The candidate was introduced by H. C. Head, member of the Democratic county central committee. Head stated that Young was among the leaders of the bar, with a busy and important practice; that he was a public spirited citizen of Southern California, an orange grower and property owner; and was a competent, able man. "Thousands of Republicans are glad that Milton K. Young was drafted for the nomination on the Democratic ticket, since the dry split nominated Rolph on the Republican ticket," Head declared. "They are grateful that they now have such a man to run for the office."

In his address Young directed attention to the fact that it was at his request that the Democrats adopt a dry plank in the party platform, and declared that while the candidate for lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket was running as a wet, he was 'tremendously dry."

"This brings about a paradoxical situation," he stated, "with a similar situation on the other side of the political house but the offices changed. Rolph is wet and his running mate is dry. The voters can unscramble this situation at the voting booths. The important question in California today is the decision of the people on the eighteenth amendment. It is exceedingly acute by reason of the action of states on the Atlantic seaboard where the wets have made great gains. The fight in California is more important than many realize. The issue is clearly and definitely made here. The decision by election of a governor whose course in life is such as to place him on the repeal side means the beginning of the end is at hand.

"The people of the state, I believe, have no desire to turn the state government over to the political machine of the county and city of San Francisco. Rolph's campaign was financed by Herman Flesschacker, of the Anglo-London bank, as in the past. Several years ago a suit was filed by a taxpayer there to compel the repayment to the county of $2,500,000 which was given to that bank as a discount on an issue of Hetch-Hetchy water project bonds, and approved by Rolph, when the bond issue was not even yet required.

"Mayor Rolph was first inducted into office nearly 20 years ago by a combination of Democratic and Republican bosses in San Francisco. These, by their united powers have kept him in public service ever since. They are such men as Matt Sullivan, Theodore Roach, Eustace Cullian ,Tim Reardon, Peter Haggerty and Tom Finn and other well known political names in San Francisco. A number of them were formerly Democrats, but from time to time they have gone over to the Republican side as the political demands of Mayor Rolph made it convenient, until now they are mostly under that banner. In 1918, Mayor Rolph was a candidate before the Republican primaries for nomination as governor, as was William D. Stephens. Mayor Rolph also sought the nomination in the Democratic primaries against Frances J. Heany and Thomas Lee Woolwine. So many Republicans changed their registration to Democratic in that election, who supported Rolph as Democrats, that he lost the Republican nomination to Stephens and won the Democratic nomination over Heany and Woolwine. In a mandamus proceeding before the supreme court, he sought to establish his right to running as a Democratic candidate against Stephens, the Republican nominee, but the supreme court held that having failed to secure the Republican nomination, with which party he was registered, Rolph could not have the Democratic nomination. He therefore was without a nomination and the Domocratic party was without a nominee. If some dry Republican still feels that there is some slight thread to tie him to Mr. Rolph as the Republican nominee for governor, let me sever that thread. In the recent Republican primary election, Rolph received 36 per cent of the Republican votes cast. Buron Fitts and Governor C. C. Young between them, received 64 per cent of that vote. However, bear in mind that from 75,000 to 100,000 Democratic voters in this state changed their registration from Democratic to Republican to vote for Rolph, which reduces his percentage of the Republican vote at least one-third. Twenty-four per cent is a very slender support upon which to base a claim for kinship to the Republican party. Therefore, the conscience of no dry Republican need be shocked in voting for the Democratic nominee standing upon an enforcement platform.

"If I am elected I shall regard it as a mandate that the eighteenth amendment shall be enforced."

Mr. Young in his address also stressed the need of a governor from the southern part of the state and in an interview after the dinner asserted that he favored a water conservation program and would endeavor to put it through with all convenient speed if elected.

Upset Not Serious If Bowels Get This Help

When you're out of sorts, headachy, dizzy, bilious, with coated tongue, bad breath, no appetite or energy—don't worry. It's probably constipation.

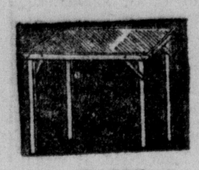

Take a candy Cascaret tonight and see how quickly your trouble clears us. No more headache; no gas on stomach or bowels. Appetite improves; digestion is encouraged. Take another tomorrow night and the next night. Get every bit of the souring waste out of your system. Then see how bowel action is regular and complete.

Cascarets are made from cascara, which doctors agree actually strengthens bowel muscles. Ten cents at all drug stores.—Adv.

CHEST GROUPS CONVENE TODAY TO PLAN DRIVE

Intensive work on Community Chest preliminaries undoubtedly will follow a meeting of workers which was called for late this afternoon by Sam Hurwitz, chairman of the business district section of of the Chest organization.

Some 60 men were expected to convene at the Y.M.C.A. building for conference, instructions and consultation as to plans for a quick and effective cleanup of their part of the Community Chest campaign.

"I consider the Community Chest a business proposition," said Hurwitz, "and I believe that we ought to handle it in a businesslike way. My workers have responded cheerfully, and we are going to try to save their time and energy by working out the most efficient plans for covering our part of the canvass."

The full list of men who thus far have signed on with Hurwitz in his part of the work includes:

WINTER BLOOM SWEET PEAS

August 1 marks the beginning of the planting season for Sweet Peas in the milder regions of the Pacific Coast. Plantings made at this time with proper culture should bloom within 100 days and blooms should continue throughout the winte rmonths. Additional plantings may be made at any time from August to March.

The Early Flowering Spencer Sweet Peas have been developed particularly for outdoor winter bloom, where it does not get cold enough to freeze them. These are the large flowering long-stemmed sweet peas, and are a great improvement in comparison with those older types of years ago.

Your sweet peas will be no better than the soil preparations you make for them! It is a common practice among successful Sweet Pea growers to dig a trench 18 to 24 inches deep and mix thoroughly with the soil, barnyard fertilizer, sheep manure, or in the absence of these, a liberal quantity of steamed bonemeal, and a few pounds of agricultural sulphur. The soil should contain considerable humus such as leaf mold or any other organic matter.

In freshly turned soil, open a furrow three or four inches deep, sow the seeds in the bottom of this furrow at the rate of about one ounce t oabout 30 or 40 feet. Cover the seed to a depth of one inch, firm the soil to the seed, leaving a loose mulch of soil on top. Do not sprinkle or irrigate for with proper soil preparation in advance of planting there should be sufficient moisture to germinate the seeds without the application of additional water. Sprinkling crusts the surface, excludes the air, and sometimes causes poor germination.

Provide a trellis and train the young plants up as soon as they have tendrils. While the plants are young they should be thinned, to give them room to develop. The flowers should be picked every day after blooming season commences. If left to mature seeds, the flowering season will be shortened, for once the plan has succeeded in maturing its seeds, it has completed its life cycle.

It is well to keep sweet peas thoroughly watered for the first few weeks of their growth, but when the blossom season begins, too much water may cause the buds to fall from the stems, in which case sprinkling or irrigation should cease, and cultivation should be practiced, leaving a loose mulch of soil on the surface. Do not cultivate tood deeply or too closely to the plants themselves as there is danger of disturbing the root system.

Best results are obtained by inoculating sweet pea seeds with a bacterial culture before planting.

CHURCH SCHOOL BUILDING HERE IS DEDICATED

A large crowd attended the dedication ceremonies attendant to placing the new religious education unit of the First Christian church in service, which were held in the new building yesterday afternoon, with an interesting and impressive program.

Members and friends of the church assembled in front of the heavy paneled doors of the fine building and witnessed the presentation of the keys to the building by W. B. Martin, acting chairman of the building committee, to T. D. Knights, chairman of the official board and president of the church trustees. Before unlocking the doors, Chairman Knights made a short statement of the history of the building.

The Rev. Scott Buchanan, pastor, presided at the services in the auditorium, in which the dedicatory address and dedication of the building by the congregation were made and congratulations from other church leaders were received. The auditorium was decorated with baskets of flowers expressing congratulations from many friends of the church.

The speaker of the day was Dr. W. C. Pearce, of Los Angeles, former secretary of the World Sunday echool association, and an executive of the North American Sunday School union. Dr. Pearce's address sparkled with wit and philosophy. He dedicated the building as a place of instruction where God's laws of the universe should be taught by inspired teachers as a place of welcome where people would feel at home and want to return, drawn by the fragrance of a spiritual welcome, and as a place of rare good fellowship.

The Rev. Harry Evan Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church and president of the Santa Ana Ministerial association, brought felicitations and congratulations from the ministers and churches of Santa Ana. The Rev. Franklin H. Minck, of Orange, brought greetings and congratulations from the five Sunday schools of the Santa Ana district of the Christian church.

Music for the occasion was presented by the Silvertone male quartet, by Mrs. E. H. Elsener, soloist, who was accompanied by Mrs. R. S. Briggs, with a flute obbligato by R. S. Briggs, and Lauren Cannon, violinist.

The opening prayer was made by the Rev. C. F. Martin, pastor of the Orange avenue Christian church, and the dedicatory prayer was made by the Rev. F. Tinsley, pastor of the First Christian church of Fullerton, after the dedication of the building by the congregation and the Rev. Buchanan.

Announcement was made that $3599.37 had been received at an offering during the morning when the goal was $2500 and that more than $5000 in cash had been paid in toward the expense of the $20,000 project. Gift of 300 hymnals by Roy Vincent, in memory of his father, also was announced.

TOASTMASTERS INTERNATIONAL IS ORGANIZED

Toastmasters International was formally inaugurated on Saturday night at a meeting at the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., which was attended by representatives of the various Toastmasters clubs in Southern California.

J. Clark Chamberlain, of San Diego, was elected president of the new federation, with Arthur Johnson, of Pasadena, first vice president; George Hedstrom, of Anaheim, as second vice president; Robert H. Orr, of Los Angeles, as secretary, and George M. Grant, of Los Angeles, as treasurer.

Plans are under way for incorporating the federation, for the starting of a bulletin for circulation among the members, and for various other projects intended to strengthen and improve the work of the clubs.

An adjourned meeting of the council will be held at Santa Barbara on November 1, to be followed by the usual dinner and program.

Saturday night's inaugural dinner was an interesting affair, attended by about 100 guests, with a program which included the presentation of the newly elected officers, and a series of short speeches by selected speakers from the various clubs. Dr. A. W. Rothwell, of Los Angeles, was toastmaster. Santa Ana was represented by Frank Humphrey, who delivered a clever talk on the subject of "Collections." Music during the evening was provided by a trio of young musicians from Santa Ana, including Miss Mary Nau, flute; Miss Betty Smedley, piano, and Marion Nau, violin.

R. C. Smedley, of Santa Ana, founder of the Toastmasters clubs, had the honor of installing the new officers, and J. Gustav White, mentor of the Los Angeles clubs, acted as general critic of the evening's program.

STANTON

STANTON, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Walter Hyde, of San Francisco, and her mother, Mrs. Stagsdall, of Fullerton, spent Wednesday with Mrs. R. D. Gillison and her mother, Mrs. M. B. Curtis. Mrs. Hyde was a friend of Mrs. Gillison through their school days. She expects to return to her home this week. Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gage and daughter and son, of Balboa, called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gillison. They were returning from a trip to Watsonville, where they had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Giles Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Johnson entertained Sunday at a family gathering. His sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Eade, of Pasadena, his niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Chase of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Garland Courage of Long Beach, were the guests. The event was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Chase, who were recently married.

H. N. Myers, of Los Angeles, called on Mr. and Mrs. E. F. McKibben Tuesday and on Friday T. Chevas of San Diego called on Mrs. McKibben.

Paul and Lee Benson have been caring for the Ridenour garage.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Black and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Shaw, of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Jackson, of Redlands were recent callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Johnson.

Several families of Mexicans are moving to Bakersfield as work here seems to be slack.

A Clear Complexion

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.—(Adv.)

BREA

BREA, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Winifred Crabill, president of the Brea P.-T. A., presided at a meeting of that organization held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Earl Good. The next two weeks of October, according to Mrs. Crabill, will be devoted to a membership drive. Mrs. A. Vorhees, Mrs. Robert Ross and Mrs. Frank Bickel will assist in the drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boling have had a closing out sale of their grocery stock in the Sewell building. The Bolings have been in business here for the past three years. At present they contemplate a good rest and later may make a trip to Ohio, their former home.

F. A. Ball, who conducted the meat market in connection with the grocery store, has moved into the Cox grocery store in the Peterkin building. Mr. Ball has been in business in Brea for many years.

Mrs. J. F. Schweitzer and Mrs. E. H. Rodgers, respectively chairman and secretary of the music section of the Brea Woman's club, entertained that group Friday at the home of the former.

This being the first meeting of the new club year, the time was devoted principally to outlining their work. This section was very active during the past year and new members have been added recently.

The hostesses served refreshments at the close of the pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. Frank Shields, of Ventura, is visiting in Brea at the home of her husband's sister, Mrs. James Weaver. Mrs. Shields is a bride, her marriage to Mr. Shields having taken place at Ventura last week. Mrs. Weaver and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Shields, attended the wedding, the former as matron of honor. The newlyweds will live in Ventura, where theb ridegroom is employed by the Shell Oil company.

Dr. L. F. Crenshaw has moved his family and offices one-half block south of his former residence on South Pomona, into the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Vern Russell.

Mrs. S. W. Venner has returned from a four months' visit with relatives and friends in England, her former home. With her husband she enjoyed a visit of several days at San Diego upon her return.

Mrs. G. C. Folckemer, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Brea Woman's club, will serve a 6:00 o'clock public dinner in the Masonic hall on the evening of October 7. Mrs. Folckemer and her committee have determined to add materially to the building fund of the club this year, this being their first effort toward that goal.

Mrs. Ralph Swope, of Compton, visited here this week at the home of her husband's mother, Mrs. Jennie Swope.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther W. Hyde are living in the apartment over the Oil Well Supply company's store building on North Pomona avenue. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McPherson, the former until recently manager of the Brea store of this company, are now in Chicago, where they are visiting with relatives and attending to business matters.

Mrs. Fred Boling spent yesterday in Fullerton and Anaheim, visiting in both cities with relatives of Mr. Boling.

Mrs. Grace May, city clerk of Brea, has been using the city council chambers for her office while repairs were made in the clerks' quarters. The work consisted principally of repairs to the ceiling.

CRANSTON BACK FROM MEETING OF EDUCATORS

Superintendent of Schools J. A. Cranston is back in his office today after attending the state convention of school superintendents, which was held last week at Lake Tahoe. He reported that 440 persons registered at the sessions in the mountain resort.

One of the reports that was made also will hold the attention of school trustees and boards, he stated, referring to the reports of the committees on teacher retirement. This report was made by Dr. J. M. Gwinn, superintendent of San Francisco schools and president of the California Council of Education.

This report dealt with changes which the committee is endeavoring to work out in connection with the two measures, so that teachers and members of school boards will find them more satisfactory. The retirement measure is to be amplified and strengthened in a bill which it is proposed to introduce to the next session of the legislature.

Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of education, addressed the convention.

Professor Fletcher H. Swift, of the University of California, discussed a bill to be introduced before the state legislature providing for equalization of school funds so that a level of high quality in personnel and opportunities for education could be maintained in all districts. Chester H. Rowell was one of the speakers. One of the best addresses before the convention was that made by Dr. Ernest C. Moore, head of the University of California at Los Angeles. Dr. Robert G. Sproul, president of the University of California, spoke also.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 6.—The Rev. F. G. Correa, assistant pastor of the Garden Grove Baptist church, in charge of Mexican work, left for Mexico City to attend the Mexican Baptist convention. He will be one of the speakers. He was accompanied by his brother-in-law, the Rev. J. Arrevalo, pastor of the Mexican church at Covina, and Mrs. Correa and the children, who will visit relatives in Mexico City.

Dr. F. J. Seaman attended the California state church federation meeting in Los Angeles, to which he had been appointed a delegate from the Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Seaman also attended the meeting of the federation.

Mrs. R. E. Linden, who underwent an operation at the White Memorial hospital in Glendale recently, is convalescing at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Holt and Mr. and Mrs. Orr Russell, of Glendale, were Sunday guests at the O. M. Kenworthy home.

Mrs. L. G. Taylor and Mrs. R. M. Boudreaux, of Vallejo, were called here by the illness of their mother, Mrs. H. H. Haigh. They will remain here several days. Mrs. Haigh submitted to a major operation at St. Joseph's hospital Sunday and is getting along nicely.

Mrs. R. B. Valle, of Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Valle jr., of Montebello Park, and Mrs. A. D. Kinne, of Los Angeles, were dinner guests Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Price.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Twenty-two thousand fans went out to Cubs' park the other day to watch the Bruins sing their swan song..That speaks well for Cub fans, who had to swallow bitter pills in the Cardinals' pennant victory and the canning of Boss McCarthy..Statistics for Cubs' attendance after the final game showed that the ex-champions failed to break their 1929 record by something like 20,000 fans..The 1930 attendance was 1,465,000 paid admissions..Of course, that doesn't include the femmes who overran the field on Ladies' Days..A Chicago newspaper recently printed a story panning the football correspondents for sending out the same "bearish" stories, night after night—It does seem that something of interest would happen at a grid camp once in a while.

MY GIANTS

The New York Giants that I picked to win the National league chase did not win any chase, as you well know. But they wound up the season snugly in third place, a game behind he Cubs and three notches away from the championship.

The nice part of it, not from my own standpoint particularly, but from a New Yorker's, is that the Giants crowded under the wire with their noses in front of those pesky Brooklyn Robins, their bitterest enemies from the opening gong. I still think that if Brooklyn had been barred from the league this season, my Giants would have won.

Looking back over it all, the Giants were a great collection, now weren't they? They put on more dramatic drives, more complete collapses in crucial spots, more sensational hitting, pitching and fielding feats and more agonizing inconsistencies of baseball than any other club. You have to agree that they were interesting.

MEMPHIS BILL TERRY

While the boys are renewing acquaintances back home in Grestna, La.; Meeker, Okla.; Arcadia, Calif.; Somerville, Mass., and other out-of-the-way places, I've been having a lot of fun mulling over the statistics after Memphis Bill Terry's name. Big Bill did some noteworthy things with his bat in the season just closed.

First of all, unofficial averages show that he hit .401 to lead the league i nbatting. Secondly, he registered 254 base hits, which figure tied the National League mark recorded a year ago by Frank (Lefty) O'Doul of the Phillies. Thirdly, he established himself as the first Giant to hit .400 or better for a season. Lastly, he was the firs tGiant to win a batting championship since Larry Doyle turned the trick with an average of .320 back in 1915.

FLATBUSH FLATTERY

Uncle Wilbert (Round Robin) Robinson gave those Flatbushers plenty to be proud of this season, too. They didn't win any pennants, to be sure, but they perched at the top longer than any of the rest, unless you count the Cardinals' roosting period from now until the season opens next spring. In addition, there was an improved pitching staff with Vance, Luque, Thurston and the youthful Phelps turning in many sensationally pitched victories.

There were the rejuvenation of Glenn Wright, the discovery and rise to stardom of young Alfonso Lopez, the Spanish catcher, and the great defensive improvement of Babe Herman.

Master Babe deserves a paragraph by himself. He made the highest batting average of his unusual career. While hitting .395 to gain second honors in the batting race, he sponsored 35 home runs, more than any other Robin ever accomplished in the history of Flatbush baseball. He also scored the most runs and drove home the most runs on the team. His total of 18 stolen bases ranked him second only to Kiki Cuyler of the Cubs. And when one considers that Master Babe was transformed in one year from perhaps the world's worst flycatcher to one of the season's best, you'll agree that Brooklyn Bambino had a pretty good year.

EARNSHAW OPPOSES GRIMES

Menlo Jaycees Crush Dons, 20 To 0

S. A. RESERVES SPOT OAKS TO 2 TOUCHDOWNS

By "SKY" DUNLAP

It may be smart football to start a second team in a football game with the regulars sitting on the bench all ready for an emergency but something backfired on Coach Bill Cook Saturday and his Santa Ana junior college gridders got their fingers burned, 20 to 0, by the Menlo junior college Oaks in an "intersectional" game at Poly field.

The Dons just spotted the northerners to a pair of touchdowns by starting the reserves because the Oaks scored twice in the early minutes of the first quarter. The first string then was rushed into the fray but giving a strong team like Menlo two touchdowns is like giving the St. Louis Cardinals or the Athletics three games before the world series starts.

The Dons piled up such a lead in first downs that it seems impossible they lost by 20 points. Whereas Santa Ana made 16 first downs, only four were accredited to Menlo. And adding insult to injury, Menlo added another unearned touchdown in the third quarter when La Combe snatched a pass from the waiting fingers of Melvin Beatty and rambled down the sidelines no less than 80 yards to the last chalk mark.

Oaks Start Fast

Coach Dud De Groot and his Palo Alto gridders had a powerful team that simply annihilated the defense of Santa Ana's starting lineup. Just a dozen plays after the kickoff, Springer scored for Menlo, following a drive from midfield after Natland had fumbled for Santa Ana. Springer was the big noise noise in this drive, taking the ball the last six times. It took four lusty whacks at the line to get over from the five-yard line but a freight train could have rolled through the hole that allowed the score.

Springer booted a perfect kick through the crossbars, one of the prettiest this season. He had a total of three out of four for afternoon, his last being wide by inches. On this first touchdown, he kicked goal only to have both teams offside so he duplicated the feat on the next play.

Nine plays after the first score, another touchdown was marked down for Menlo. Watkins returned the kickoff 28 yards. A moment later the Dons fumbled and Menlo recovered on the Santa Ana 43 yard line. Springer pounded for two yards over tackle and then tossed a long pass to Captain Norgardt, who finally was crowded outside on the five yard line.

Don Regulars Take Field

Springer was held for no gain but another of those wagon-holes opened up and he went over the line standing up. He sent another perfect conversion through the posts, making the score 14 to 0.

Coach Bill Cook decided to end the scoring orgy at this point and the first string, composed of Bill Harkelroad and Joe Duncan, ends; Harry Clayton and Mike Santa Cruz, tackles; Kermit McCoy and Philip Martin, guards; Captain Al Kluthe, center; Way Garlock, quarter; Melvin Beatty and Franklin Van Meter, halfbacks, and Clarence Hapes, fullback, trotted on the field.

From that time on, "little U. S. C." and "little Stanford" battled to the finish with the Cookmen looking far more impressive but unable to crash to scorebook.

Clarence Hapes, giant Indian fullback from Garden Grove, was up to his usual smacking tactics and displayed a much better knack of blocking and interference running. A twisted knee took him out of the game, however and then Harold Rose, the only other capable fullback on the squad, turned his ankle and the Dons were hard up. Wayne Garlock had to assume the ground gaining responsibilities because even Emmett Seacord, one of the flashiest backs, was unable to play because of injuries.

Pass Intercepted

Jimmy Hall Is Lost To Saint Team

Jimmie Hall, Santa Ana high school halfback, is ineligible to play with Coach "Tex" Oliver's eleven this season, according to a definite decision rendered Saturday by the southern section of the California Interscholastic federation.

Hall's case was carried to the C. I. F. by Santa Ana authorities who believed Hall eligible, although he had completed six semesters in high school, because he skipped a semester of work during his junior high school days.

The Saints were to begin practice this afternoon for their first Coast Preparatory league game which will be played at Long Beach Friday with Woodrow Wilson high school, a new member of the fast Coast circuit. Coach Oliver hopes to arrange a scrimmage tomorrow with Anaheim.

COUGARS BEAT BEARS, BATTLE TROY SATURDAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Washington State college basked today in the soft glow of the coast conference spotlight for the first time in many years. That 16-0 victory over California Saturday won't be forgotten overnight, and will be a matter for considerable speculation in the worried camps of University of Southern California and University of Washington.

The U. S. C. Trojans face the triumphant Cougars next Saturday while Washington's eleven have until November to ponder over the possible results of its coming combat with the "new threat." And just to increase the worry, Washington during the same month has to take on Stanford and U. S. C.

Staters Blank Bears

Washington State's whitewashing of the Golden Bears virtually means elimination of California from the coast conference race and was due in the main part to a grand system of teamwork and the sensational playing of six Cougars. Chief among these was Carl Ellingson who rolled up the enviable record of throwing 13 completed passes for a total distance of 172 yards and two touchdowns, gained 71 yards from scrimmage, returned a punt 37 yards and averaged 50 yards on his punts when kicking out of danger.

Most of the passes were received by those spectacular ends, Maskell and Hurley, who seemed uncanny in their ability to pick free spots. Porter Lainhart made 75 yards from scrimmage, Elmer Schwartz bucked the line for 61 yards and "Bull" Tonkin shone brightly as a safety.

Big Game In North

It will be a big game between the Cougars and Trojans. The latter, victorious over Oregon State Saturday by a score of 27 to 7, would have been the obvious favorites to win had not the Washington Staters proved such an upset over California.

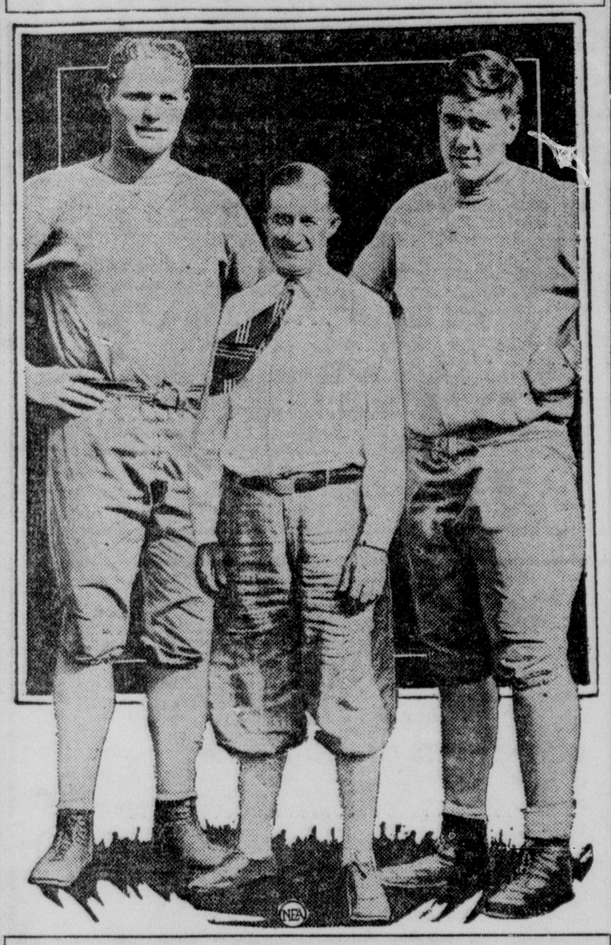

In beating Oregon State, "the Thundering Herd's two star quarterbacks, Marshall Duffield and Orv Mohler, each scored a brace of touchdowns. Reg Rust made the Stater's lone score in the third quarter.

The third conference game of the day ended in a 27 to 0 victory for Washington over Montana. The Huskies playing without their star, Merle Hufford, made up for several bone plays by long runs and successful passes.

Stanford downed Santa Clara, 20 to 0, with Phil Moffatt and Harlow Rothert reeling off 40 and 50 yard runs for the Cardinals.

GIANTS LEARN FROM MIDGET

The east's midget football coach, Andy Kerr, center, of Colgate university, has two of the east's huskiest tackles in Howard Crane, left, and Art Schiebel, right. Crane and Schiebel, weighing 230 and 220 respectively, have played together two years as freshmen and varsity men. Kerr is building his line about the two big fellows, who have another season to play following this one. By the way, Kerr is only 5 feet 4 and weighs 125. Kerr formerly was "Pop" Warner's assistant at Stanford.

FOUST TO REOPEN BOUT CLUB THURSDAY; 'POP' BARRETT IS MATCHMAKER; 40 AND 8 TEAMS

Coincident with announcement that the Orange County Athletic club, Santa Ana boxing arena, would reopen its doors Thursday night after more than a month of "darkness," Promoter Henry T. Foust today made public his plans for operation under a new policy which will include the co-operation of the Orange County American Legion's "40 and 8."

Although Foust will continue inactive control, the Delhi road sports emporium will have a new matchmaker, Joe ("Pop") Barrett, widely known figure in the fight world who has been associated with the game 40 years as boxer, manager, matchmaker and promoter.

The "40 and 8's" association with the arena will give that Legion organization a share of the profits, it is understood. In return for this, the Legionnaires will co-operate in numerous ways toward helping the fight game prosper anew here.

Barrett's initial card will pair in an eight-round main event Urban Hernandez, clever Placentia lightweight, and Richie King, blond harborite who has met virtually every 135-pounder of any reputation on the coast inside the past year.

King's most recent start was at Pasadena where he was knocked out by young Bobby Reister, but prior to that the veteran kicked over a lot of good ones and gave Goldie Hess a whale of a fight at Hollywood.

The rest of the card follows:

Tony Moreno, Placentia, vs. Johnny Gonzales, Long Beach, 125 pounds, six rounds.

Tim Charles vs. Gus Hiebe, 185 pounds, six rounds.

George Starr vs. Adam Moraga, 128 pounds, four rounds.

Cliff Henigar vs. Tony Flores. 135 pounds, four rounds.

San Diegoan Wins Skeet Match Here

Shooting against a strong wind, exceptional scores were made here yesterday in the Santa Ana Skeet club's invitational shoot, held at their traps on West Fifth street.

First prize for the day's shooting went to B. W. Perkins, San Diego, who broke 89 birds out of the possible 100, winning a silver loving cup and 1000 shells.

W. W. Berry, of Santa Ana, took second honors with 88 birds to his credit winning 750 shells. Melvin Clover, of Ventura, was third, with 84, winning 500 shells and E. D. Myrick, of San Diego, was fourth with 83 and won 250 shells.

Other winners of smaller prizes were: Carl Kumpe, of Santa Ana, fifth; Vernon Barnhill, Santa Ana, sixth; Cal Gregg, Anaheim, seventh; Orville Farish, San Diego, eighth; Arnold Peek, Santa Ana, ninth and Berb Heanes, Santa Ana, tenth.

PRINCETON AND YALE BEST ON EASTERN GRID

By COPELAND C. BURG
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Another great eleven from Notre Dame. A sturdy Yale bulldog and a Princeton tiger seemingly worthy of the name took their bow today before the football world. These, with Washington State in the far west and Vanderbilt of the south, etched autumnal skies as the gridiron highlights when the campus canopy unfolded for the third week of the 1930 football season.

Washington State's surprise whitewashing of the great Golden Bears of California, Vanderbilt's crushing defeat of Minnesota and Michigan's scoreless tie with Michigan State were the only startling upsets of the week-end. Gettysburg furnished an unadvertised thrill by a field goal victory over Villanova.

Vanderbilt Routs Gophers

The always powerful Vanderbilt eleven shook the midwest with its 33 to 7 triumph over the Gophers and Coach Harry Kipke's career at Michigan was deeply tinged by the even-stephen verdict the Ann Arbor men were forced to swallow at the hands of Michigan State in a game classed as only a warmer-up for the blue and maize.

Southern Methodist's much heralded overhead attack proved to be everything that was promised and dedication of Notre Dame's new palace of boot looked like it was going to end in a wake for a time. As it was Knute Rockne did considerable weeping before and during the game but tears changed to smiles as the Irish finally nosed out victory 20-14.

In the east, Yale's 40 to 13 smash of Maryland and Princeton's 22 to 0 march over the powerful Amherst eleven were outstanding. Albie Booth was the bright star of the Eli aggregation and hogged the spotlight in prima donna fashion. Yale evidently intends to depend on the sparkling quarterback this season as much as in 1929. Albie is one player already nitched for the All-American.

Princeton Powerful

Princeton's showing of a potentially powerful and cunning eleven indicated that Coach Bill Roper's promise of a satisfactory swan song at old Nassau was not illtimed. Roper's exit from Princeton at the end of the season probably will be marked with deep regret.

Army furnished its usual early season promise by blasting Furman's hopes 54 to 0, while Harvard overwhelmed Vermont and the Coast Guard school eleven in a twin bill.

Colgate, Syracuse, Cornell, Brown, Pennsylvania, Pitt and Penn State turned in conventional scores against comparatively weak opponents. Cornell's 61 to 14 win over Niagara showed indications that Gil Dobie is busy again with a threat of one of his University of Washington elevens, undefeated, when he was coach there, for nine or ten years.

No Upsets In South

In the south, Duke trounced Virginia 32 to 0, Georgia Tech surprised with a 45 to 0 smashing of South Carolina and Texas Christian registered complete astonishment when held to a scoreless tie by—

In the Big Ten circle of the Midwest, Illinois was severety tested to account for Iowa State by a lone touchdown. Ohio State signaled better things with a 25 to 0 win over Indiana.

Northwestern, meeting Tulane in a non-conference tilt, broke the

LAGUNA BEACH WINNER OVER SANTA ANA, 9-5

Laguna Beach took a fall out of Santa Ana's pennant prospects when it rolled the Merchants, 9 to 5, in an Orange County Harbor league baseball game at Laguna Beach yesterday.

Those who braved a dusty windstorm saw an excellent game even though clouds of dust made efficient play difficult. Both sides threatened to score in almost every inning.

Abe Johnson was Laguna Beach's hero. Coming to bat in the fifth when the game was a 3 to 3 tie and two colleagues were lingering on the pathways, Johnson slammed one of the longest runs ever made on the beach diamond. Johnson also accounted for two additional bingles and a sacrifice in four times at bat.

"Fuzz" Page was a little wild, passing six, but in the pinches, he proved a better pitcher than Bob Drysdale, Santa Ana's nominee.

The box score:

CARDS, MACKS ALL SQUARE IN WORLD SERIES

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—Under lowering skies, but with the fever of world series sun burning brightly, the St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Athletics went into the fifth game this afternoon to break the deadlock brought about by two well earned victories won by the Red Birds before happy home town fans Saturday and Sunday.

With the contenders on even terms, each club having won two games, this fifth contest took on the importance of an opening world series game, and both teams were out to give all they had to win it.

Connie Mack, disconcerted by the failure of his men in the games played at Sportsman's park, sent George Earnshaw, his big right hander, to the mound, while "Gabby" Street, happy over his club's recovery of its fighting form, nominated Burleigh Grimes, the spitball pitcher.

This meant that George Watkins would be in right field for the Cardinals, with the lineup otherwise unchanged.

Yesterday's game, witnessed by a record crowd for St. Louis—39,946 whooping, joyous fans—was won by the splendid pitching of Jess Haines, who has been flinging them for the Cardinals for 11 years. Haines had figured upon retiring, he said, at the age of 36, but he let the A's down with four singles and one run, and had more stuff on the ball than ever before.

Charlie Gelbert

Backing up Haines was Charley Gelbert, the "baby" of the club, who tripled in the third and scored the first run for St. Louis a moment later, singled in the fourth to drive in another run and put the game on ice, and played so brilliantly afield that Mack declared him the man responsible for the defeat of the American league champions.

The Athletics opened up on Haines in the first as though they would win easily. Three singles resulted in Max Bishop scoring, but that was the last time the Mackmen got a man past second base. Al Simmons did get a scratchy sort of single in the third, to maintain his great hitting record for the series, and that was the last semblance of a hit off big Jess.

"Lefty" Grove pitched better yesterday than in the first game, which he won. His support left something to be desired. Jimmy Dykes, with a wild peg to first in the fourth inning, when he might have tagged out "Chick" Hafey on the paths, let in the winning run.

After the fourth inning, the Cardinals didn't make a hit off "Lefty" and only one man reached first base. But the damage had been done, and the series now is a wide open, nip and tuck affair which promises to develop into one of the best since the champions of the National and American leagues started playing post season contests for the highest honors of baseball.

MISS SAULSBERRY TOURNEY FAVORITE

Reaching the semi-finals after a 9 and 7 triumph over Mrs. C. V. Doty, highly efficient Mary Saulsberry today continued to rule as a heavy favorite to win the women's golfing championship of the Santa Ana Country club. Miss Saulsberry this week draws as her opposition Mrs. Osman Pixley, who eliminated Mrs. R. W. Townsend, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Hugh Shields, winner over Mrs. Faye Talbert, 2 and 1, will meet Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth, who defeated Mrs. L. H. Robinson, one up.

Second flight results follow: Mrs. M. B. Wellington defeated Mrs. J. K. McDonald, default; Mrs. Don Andrews beat Mrs. E. B. Van Meter, 2 up; Mrs. J. L. McFadden beat Mrs. Roy Langley, 3 and 2; Mrs. W. C. Fletcher defeated Mrs. J. L. Wheeler, default.

HOLMES PLAYS M'KINNEY AND DR. ROSS FACES POMEROY IN SEMI-FINALS AT COUNTRY CLUB

It will be Ed Holmes against B. Z. McKinney and Dr. G. C. Ross against Van Pomeroy this week in the semi-final round for the 1930-31 golfing championship of the Santa Ana Country club.

The defending titlist, Holmes, eliminated in second round matches completed yesterday a contender many believed to be the next strongest in the tournament when he won from F. E. (Ed) Farnsworth, one up. Farnsworth, a former champion himself, played fine golf but Holmes finally nosed him out.

McKinney, perhaps the most improved golfer in the entire Newport boulevard club membership, took the measure of L. H. Robinson, 2 to 1. This was a mild upset, Robinson having been a runner-up for the crown in two of the last four years. McKinney was little more than a golfing "duffer" two years ago but now he is admittedly worthy opposition for Champion Holmes.

Dr. Ross, a finalist in last year's championship, had comparatively little difficult winning from B. V. Curry in one of the lower brackets, 4 and 3.

Pomeroy, the youngest to reach the semi-final round here since the club was organized, eliminated C. R. Furr, one up. The Ross-Pomeroy match figures to be closely contested.

Other tournament results follow:

Second Flight

D. E. Liggett defeated E. T. Meter, 4 and 3; Dr. W. C. Dubois defeated G. B. Shattuck, 3 and 2.

W. F. Kogler defeated R. E. Graves, 2 up; C. H. Way defeated W. S. Spicer, 4 and 3.

M. N. Thompson defeated W. C. Fletcher, 2 up; Dr. M. A. Patton defeated William Rohrbacker, 3 and 2.

Lew Wallace defeated C. W. Cromer, 1 up; H. B. Van Dien defeated L. L. Carden, 3 up;.

Third Flight

C. P. Boyer defeated Dr. A. C. Robins, 5 and 4; Dr. George L. Chapman defeated Dr. R. P. Yeagle, 2 up.

O. N. Robertson defeated C. H. Chapman, 2 and 1; W. Vandermast defeated W. K. Hillyard, 1 up.

R. O. Winkler defeated V. V. Tubbs, 2 and 1; J. H. Huber defeated L. W. Slaback, 2 and 1.

A. A. Beard defeated Milburn Harvey, 4 and 2; R. A. Mosher defeated E. H. Rowland, 3 and 2.

Fourth Flight

Asa Hoffman defeated M. B. Wellington, 2 and 1; Dr. V. A. Rossiter defeated F. J. Knight, 1 up, 19 holes.

Dr. W. E. Watkins defeated C. Robins, 1 up; H. J. Lowe defeated G. J. Gilbert, default.

R. W. Townsend defeated E. Steffenson, 4 and 3; J. W. Means defeated R. G. Cartwright, 1 up, 23 holes.

A. K. Loerch jr. defeated R. A. Emison, default; E. K. Kerhardt defeated B. J. McMullen, 1 up.

Fifth Flight

R. W. Bales defeated C. A. Vance, 3 and 2; John Martell defeated Dr. F. K. Halber, 1 up.

Dr. W. F. Kistinger defeated A. J. Cruickshang, 2 and 1; Dr. C. V. Doty defeated Harry Westover, 2 and 1.

W. F. KOGLER FIRST IN LORENZ CUP PLAY

W. F. Kogler earned a leg on the much disputed Lorenz cup over the week end, coming home in 85-14-71, two strokes in front of R. W. (Bill) Cole who stroked the layout in 95-22-73. C. R. Furr was third with 91-12-79.

Ed Holmes won Class A match play. He was three down. George Parker was four town and B. V. Curry five down. President L. R. Kennedy, two down, beat the Class B field, Benny Osterman taking second and John Martell and E. Robins tying for third. Osterman was three down, the others four down.

W. W. (Bill) Foote, 84-12-72, and C. R. Furr, 91-12-79, finished one-two in Class A match play. Milburn Harvey, 91-20-71, was first in Class B match play. Dr. A. C. Robins, 93-18-75; Bill Cole, 97-22-75; A. K. Loerch, 92-24-75, and L. R. Kennedy, 93-18-75, all tied for second.

FOOTBALL BRIEFS

NEW YORK—Fullback Peculewicz of Fordham, ran through the entire opposition, after he grabbed the ball on a kickoff, for a distance of 80 yards, scoring one of the touchdowns with which Fordham overwhelmed Buffalo 71 to 0.

PRINCETON, N. J.—Jack James, Princeton back, ran 50 yards and 85 yards, scoring two of the Tigers' touchdowns, as they downed Amherst, 23 to 0.

ITHACA, N. Y.—Bart Viviano of Plainfield, N. J., scored four touchdowns for Cornell as Gil Dobie's eleven crushed Niagara 61 to 14. He has scored six touchdowns this season and ranks in the first ten of eastern high point scorers.

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Joe Savoldi, Notre Dame fullback, raced 98 yards from kickoff to score the first touchdown in Notre Dame's 20 to 14 victory over Southern Methodist university.

PHILADELPHIA — McCarty broke through to block a kick and recovered the ball for Gettysburg on the enemy's 25-yard line, enabling Morris to placekick a 27-yard field goal, which won for Gettysburg over Villanova, 3 to 0.

HAMILTON, N. Y.—Walter Terry scored four times and Halfback Antolini ran 75 yards a minute before the game ended to score a touchdown as Colgate amassed a 99 to 0 score over Bethany. The score was the second highest ever made by Colgate.

I discussed the position of the feet in my last article and I would like to continue long enough along that line today to pass out a hint that may do somebody some good. The advice has helped me from time to time.

Occasionally one feels uncertain about the position of his feet in the address. I have—but I've also found a way that quickly sets me right again.

Walk up to the ball in approximately the hitting position and then slightly shift the weight of the body on to the toes, letting the heels barely touch the ground. Somehow that gives one a better feeling while standing before the ball and allows one to make any change that will be necessary. It also takes any uncertainty from the stance, which imparts a confident feeling that really counts a lot in hitting the ball where you want it to go.

Another thing to bear in mind is do not permit your feet to leave the ground during or after making a stroke. You may be on your toes after a long drive, but by all means keep contact with the ground with both feet.

PRINCETON, YALE ELEVENS IMPRESS

Southerners' long string of triumphs, 14 to 0.

Out in sun-kissed land, "Pop" Warner's big red Stanford team displayed strength with a 20 point lambasting of the Santa Clara Bronchos. Southern California and the University of Washington hopped up over smaller college, the Trojans taking Oregon State and the Huskies accounting for the University of Montana.

Navy, slowly rounding to shape, defeated William and Mary 19 to 6.

In New York, the major elevens opposed weak teams, Fordham, New York university and Manhattan coming through rather easily. The College of the City of New York was snagged by Lowell Textile.

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, Oct. 6. — The first collection of garments and household articles to go to the free will organizations was taken by the Midway City Woman's club, Mrs. B. L. Kirkham and Mrs. J. L. Esser receiving the contributions at the clubhouse. On each Thursday afternoon anyone having articles to give may bring them to the clubhouse, where someone will take charge and see that the associated charities get them. Magazines and papers will be accepted.

Mrs. May Mansperger visited at Willowbrook with relatives one day recently.

Mrs. C. C. Fulton, who is supply teacher in the Garden Grove elementary school, has been teaching this week.

Mrs. S. A. Miller and Mrs. Basco, of Midway City, were guests Wednesday at a shower given at Huntington Beach in honor of Mrs. George Tinsley.

Charles A. Whittet, in company with Mr. McWhinney, of Long Beach, attended a meeting at the Jonathan club in Los Angeles Thursday.

Mrs. A. G. Snow and children, Mrs. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. P. Heil and family were among local people who attended the fair Thursday

Mrs. B. F. Henderson spent overnight in Long Beach in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Snyder, assisting in the care of Mr. Snyder, who was very ill with pneumonia.

Another street is being cut through the Hill property at the Huntington Beach-Bolsa boulevard intersection, this one which is also of half circle to correspond with the one passing between the hotel building and new service station, is in the rear of the hotel building and sidewalks are being put in the same as on the two boulevards and the Adams street sides. A flower garden is planned, it is understood, for the ground surrounding the service station and the corner will be ne of beauty when completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Hensley entertained as evening dinner guests in their home, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Barry, of Springdale.

SPEEDY DIRIGIBLE

VAN NUYS, Calif., Oct. 6.—A new type of dirigible has been invented by Thad Rose of this city. It is equipped with horizontal and vertical air tunnels, fed by a large central tunnel. Rose believes from tests conducted with models that a dirigible of this type can be constructed to travel at a speed of 300 miles an hour.

MENLO ELEVEN CRUSHES DONS BY 20-0 SCORE

Hapes and Garlock smashed the ball from their own 17-yard line for a series of four first downs to the Menlo 26-yard line but when Garlock snaked a pass to Beatty, the fleet La Combe, who later ran 60 yards to a touchdown, came up again and grabbed the ball. He was off down the sideline like Frank Wykoff but Garlock sidestepped two blockers and made a spectacula rand effective tackle on the 44-yard play.

The Dons were well on the way to scoring territory in the third quarter through the efforts of Hapes and Garlock, who carted the pigskin from the Santa Ana 30-yard line to the Menlo 40-yard line. Beatty ran far to the side to take a pass from Garlock but La Combe came up from nowhere, intercepted on the dead run and trotted 6 0 yards to a touchdown. Springer's kick for goal was slightly wide.

The Cookmen took the kickoff and swept down the field again like a steamroller. Van Meter returned the kickoff to the 35-yard line, from where Garlock and Rose advanced in rapid fashion. Hapes was hurt at this juncture but Rose advanced in rapid fashion. Hapes was hurt at this juncture but Rose looked mighty good, taking the ball 15 yards in one play and five in two others, finally making a five yard run which was inches short of a first down on the 20-yard line.

Don Rushes Repulsed ..

Twice in the fourth quarter, Santa Ana advanced inside of the 10-yard line but couldn't score. Hapes, Garlock and Natland amassed four first downs in succession on a series of passes and power plays but Natland's short ass to Andres was intercepted on the five-yard line to halt the march. Menlo kicked out but the Dons came right back fro mthe 48-yard line.

"Toby" Groenow made a marvelous catch of a high pass on the 28-yard line and Lord caught another on the nine-yard line but Natland threw the bal laway over the goal line, on the next play, just as the game ended.

The los sof Hal Dunham at end, who is suffering from a charley horse, was keenly felt, although Duncan, Groenow, Harkleroad and Andres played good football. Dunham would have probably have been better able to delay the Menlo ends from getting down under kicks because the Oak wingmen always dropped Garloc kin his tracks on punts. Captain Norgardt, one of the two bald headed Menlo players, played a fin egame and was hard to kep out of the plays.

Captain Kluthe, center and Harry Clayton, tackle, were perhaps the best men o nthe line.

Santa Cruz, Kermit McCoy and Martin, guards and Groenow and Duncan, ends, also showed up well.

In the backfield, Garlock was back in his 1929 form, which sent him plowing through and around the line. Big Hapes appeared in a new role, that of a punter, and did right well with his booting. Franklin Van Meter backed up the line to perfection and on offense folded up tackles like pup tents. Elmore Lord, Ervin Watkins, Leonard Natland, Melvin Beatty and Harold Rose all deserve credit for their performances.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 6. — George Alderman, of Joliet, Ill., owner of the 80 acres of land lying at the intersection of Huntington Beach boulevard and Garden Grove boulevard, was in the community Friday, looking after property interests and calling in the H. B. Anderson home. Mr. Alderman is at present in Santa Ana and was accompanied here Friday by Walter Fine, who is an old friend of Mr. Alderman.

The Francis Penhall home is being remodeled and redecorated by Aza Snow, who has the contract for the entire work. Additional bedroom space is being built on the rear of the house, the partition between one bedroom and the present living room is being taken out, and this added to the living room. Hardwood floors are being put in and the entire house repainted and papered.

Miss Helen McCoy was at home from Occidental college for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Walton entertained as guests for the day, Mrs. Walton's sister, Mrs. Edith Johnson, of Los Angeles, her daughter, Mrs. Carl Vander, Mrs. Carrie Tindle and son, Irving, of Los Angeles. Another sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hughes, of Pasadena, also were visitors in the Walton home Friday.

Endurance is the child of determination and the parent of success.

1930 IS REWARDING CAREFUL SAVERS

NOT ON THE STATUTE BOOKS . . .

The legal restrictions under which all institutions for savings operate, establish their minimum requirements of safety.

But the prudent saver looks for further restrictions that are not on the statute books—for restrictions self-imposed by conservative institutions for savings to afford greater strength and liquidity than the law demands.

The law does not require that our Statement of Condition be free from non-liquid items such as furniture and fixtures and real estate. Nevertheless, we have voluntarily written down these items to $1 each.

The law does not specify that we should be free from bank indebtedness. Yet our Statement shows that we have not assumed an obligation of this nature, since it would come before the obligations to our savers.

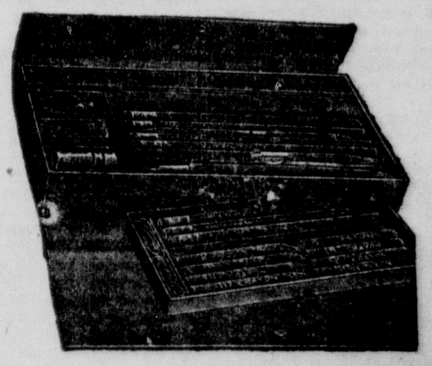

Throughout our Statement you will find similar voluntary protective measures that reinforce our legally maintained restrictions. They explain our flawless record of 41 years and our position as the largest building and loan association in the Nation.

On the basis of these distinctive measures of protection we solicit your consideration of our 6% and 5¼% facilities for savings. Send for our Statement.

Two Walnut Plants In Orange Start Operations

PRICES ON CROP FOR THIS YEAR SET TOMORROW

ORANGE, Oct. 6.—Both walnut packing plants, the Richland Walnut association and the Rosenberg Brothers packing plant, were open today with the opening of the former house to receive the first pick of the 1930 crop. The Rosenberg plant has been operating since the middle of last week with a force of 35 men and women. It is expected that work at this plant will continue until November 15 and that during the season about 1000 tons of nuts will be handled.

The Richland association house employes will begin work of handling the in-coming crop about Wednesday, when 12 men and 20 women will start work.

At the Richland house this morning it was said that it was expected that the crop this year would be about 60 per cent of that of last year. The quality of the nuts, however, is very good. Last year $237,668 was returned to growers of this association.

The Rosenberg plant has been completely remodeled to handle the 1930 crop of nuts of growers connected with the association.

Prices for the 1930 crop will be set tomorrow evening at the offices of the California Walnut association at Los Angeles. The meeting, to which all growers are invited, will be held at 7 o'clock.

The Richland association expects to operate for the coming four weeks.

LIFE MYSTERY DISCUSSED BY DR. W. M. TIPPLE

VILLA PARK, Oct. 6.—"Mystery of Life" was the topic of an unusually inspirational as well as instructive sermon delivered yesterday by Dr. W. M. Tipple, pastor of the Villa Park Congregational church. The sermon, which on account of its academic tone, may have been termed a lecture, containing frequent references to science and philosophy, was based on a text taken from Luke 17:21—"Behold the kingdom of God is within you."

"When thinking of the universe, we are apt to think of it as being a great stretch of space containing a vast number of material bodies," Dr. Tipple said. "We wonder why we should take outselves so seriously sometimes Why should we expect God to bother about us? Our importance so shrunken. Common sense dictates to us an attitude of self effacing humility. When we consider ourselves in relation to the vastness of things.

Make Vast Mistake

"Here is where we make a vast mistake. If we consider the spiritual nature of man, in this we have great importance and we occupy a real place for 'The Kingdom of God is within you.'

"It might be well to define what is meant by universe if we are to establish outselves in the spiritual cosmos. The word is taken from the Latin universum. Universum is derived from two words unus and versus meaning "one" and "having turned." It implies a complete unit, as entire thing. This may be a system of bodies in space, or an atom of matter, or a personality. Whatever is complete in itself and turns upon one axis, revolving about some central point, obeying one set of laws, is a universe. When your personality is obedient to one law, when all its elements have been organized into one harmonious system, a universe is created.

Single Set of Laws

"Our outer world is subject to a single set of laws. So there are laws governing the spiritual world. It must be gauged by its relationship to God. Its standard of measurement is faith-truth and love. If the outer world we measure, What is the distance between two points? How fast does a ray of light travel? How many light years away is the sum? How large is this or that planet? Of what material elements is it composed?

"Of the spiritual universe we ask—How great is that faith? How deep is that trust? How complete the love? How sincere the thought? How lofty the motive? How exalted the aim? How pure the goodness.

"The attributes of the outer world are those of shape, size, energy, mass energy and magnetic attraction. The attributes of the spiritual life are those of truth, beauty and goodness.

"My physical body may be destroyed, but not my spiritual. What is good physically and materially has no necessary connection with what is good spiritually. Nature is neither good nor evil. It is only nature. Spirit is neither good nor evil. It is spirit. Being good or bad unless a physical law is broken does not shorten or lengthen life. Keats and Browning were both of profound spirituality. Keats died before he was 30. Browning lived to a good old age.

"We are creatures in transition. We occupy a position neither wholly natural nor wholly spiritual. Our spiritual life is not settled. We have not fully achieved our god.

Need Not Fear

"We learn that man is potentially greater than the world in which he lives. That when his inner life has been completely organized, he is superior to all of the forces that govern the natural world. He will need no longer to fear the powers of nature. He himself will be greater than nature. While he is still subject to natural law in his body—he is the master of natural law in his soul.

"Each day we recognize that the himself. We are not complete until our whole life has been brought under its control. The spiritual universe cannot be discovered except by those who have considered it. Nor understood except by those who are open minded and ready to hear of it. Only those who have first understood the universe of spirit—can fully understand the universe of nature.

"Science cannot explore it. Those who have explored it become better scientists. Scientific research gives no solution, but knowledge of it illuminates scientific research. It is not affected by space and time. It affects the universe of space and time. It does not begin with birth. It does not end with death. But birth and death are the beginning and ending of its mysterious contact with the earth. It is a mystery beyond understanding. It leads to understanding of all the other mysteries.

"Each day we recignize that the spiritual realm is a reality. Just as a body has within it a personality—more real in many ways than the body itself—we are coming to know that in and through the material world there is a spiritual world—that is intensely real and exceedingly powerful, so the material world and natural law are for the use of man."

14 Scouts Enjoy Santiago Outing During Week End

ORANGE, Oct. 6.—About 14 boys, members of Boy Scout troop No. 53, spent Friday night camping on Santiago creek, where they recently completed a number of cabins. The boys are under the leadership of Dr. J. E. Riley, who shared the outing with them.

The cabins when completed will number nine, five now being done and four more nearly so. The boys have planned and built the entire group during the summer months and the buildings will offer safe and cozy quarters for winter camps. The Scouts are planning to build two more cabins this winter.

BOOK WEEK TO BE OBSERVED BY CITY LIBRARY

ORANGE, Oct. 6—Junior readers at the Orange public library will enjoy reading a number of their favorite books in new bindings. The latter part of the week 400 books were returned to the juvenile library from the bookbinders. The volumes are most attractive with bindings of vivid blue, red, green and purple.

It is expected that an elaborate program will be carried out during Children's book week from November 16 to 22. Mrs. Alpha Cave, librarian of the children's department, is planning a delightful program for this period as summer plans for the children were curtailed as those in charge of the library wished to co-operate with health authorities in limiting children's gatherings.

31st Birthday Of Orange Rebekahs Observed Tonight

ORANGE, Oct. 6—Ruby Rebekah lodge will celebrate its 31st birthday anniversary tonight at the I. O. O. F. hall. The Rev. P. M. McClure will give an address. A musical program has been arranged.

Motion Pictures Of Islands Shown Masons of Orange

ORANGE, Oct. 6—An interesting talk illustrated with moving pictures was enjoyed by members of the Royal Arch chapter at the regular meeting of the order at the Masonic temple the latter part of the week. The talk was given by Keller Watson, who made a trip to the Hawaiian islands the past summer and who took moving pictures of many of the places he visited.

Among the pictures shown by Watson were those of Mount Kiluaea in eruption. This volcano is especially of interest, Watson said, as the natives believe it erupts when Pelee, the goddess of the volcano is angry.

The beach of Waikiki and the surf board riders were shown as well as glimpses of beauty spots of the island and views of Honolulu.

C. W. Meadows was the program chairman.

FAIR WORKER GETS $35 FINE IN ORANGE

ORANGE, Oct. 6.—Glenn Mapes, worker at the county fair, was fined $35 in the police court of Judge G. W. Ingle when he appeared Saturday on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Mapes, who was said to have been drinking, pleaded guilty to the charge. He was arrested by Officer Grant Rude of Anaheim.

CHURCH FUTURE DISCUSSED BY ORANGE PASTOR

ORANGE, Oct. 6.—"The Future of Our Congregation" was the subject of the sermon at the Christian church Sunday morning by the Rev. Franklin Minck. The anthem, "Whose Delight Is in the Law," by Wilson, was given by the choir. Mrs. Leon Des Larzes gave a solo, "The Voice in the Wilderness," by Scott. Paul Barber, a student at the California Christian college, offered the morning prayer.

Ephesians 5:24, "As the church is subject unto Christ," was the text taken by the Rev. Mr. Minck. He said in part: "The church is subject to Christ if the members of the church worship Christ when assembled in His house of worship. Many church members whose names are on the church role do not worship when they occupy their seat in church. Their mind is on some secular subject, their business plans for the week and many similar lines of thought. Going to church has a positive value if we go to church to worship. Christ went to church. We have one record when He went to church to clean out the money changers to make the church a place to worship in. It is of positive value to us, if we go to church to worship, then we are 'anchored to the infinite' by the cable of prayer, which was first a small string sent out by God and returned by us until a strong cable anchors us to the infinite God.

"Actions Speak Louder Than Words" subject taken by the Rev. Mr. Minck Sunday evening. The music of the evening was taken over by the young people of the church. Mrs. Walter Kogler led the O. C. C. Glee club in singing "Beautiful Words of Jesus," by I. H. Merridith. Maryester Wood and Alice Des Larzes gave the piano prelude; Dorothy Finley and Anita Myracle gave a vocal duet. Sally Coe sang.

The Rev. Mr. Minck said in part: "In the past the religions of the world were busy doing something but not accomplishing the will of God. Their rituals and minor details kept them busy. They deceived themselves. The great thing for us to do is to tell others that Jesus is the Christ, the only savior of the world. It is easy to deceive ourselves. We need to be in the right atmosphere to grow in the grace of God, to live for Him, to use our energies for Him that the major concern of our life shall be to live Christ that our actions may be the same as our words.

"Our worship does not end when we leave the church door. It has only begun. It was a means to an end, our service for Christ. Our worship finds expression in our life at home and among our fellowmen during all the week.

"The future of our congregation is based on our love for others and our love for each other and our enthusiasm for Christ. Our zeal for God is according to our knowledge of God, a full knowledge of God, not just enough knowledge to make us fanatics, but a full knowledge of God that enables us to be enthusiastic for Christ.

"In conclusion, the future of our congregation depends upon our worship, our love for each other, love for others, and our enthusiasm for Christ."

FAIL TO FIND LEON BRADLEY ORANGE YOUTH

ORANGE, Oct. 6.—No word as yet has been received from Leon Bradley, who has been missing from his home in this city since Monday morning. At first it was thought that the young man might have started for his parents' home in Kansas but telegrams from that state Saturday conveyed the information that he had not arrived home nor had any word been received from him.

Young Bradley came to Orange about two years ago to be with his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Bradley, his aunt, Miss Mamie Bradley, 468 North Orange street.

Mrs. Bradley, who is 86 years old, has been an invalid for sometime and the young man came west to help care for her. For the past two years he attended the local high school.

Friends here this morning expressed the opinion that they believe Bradley had gone to the Imperial valley to pick cotton as he had been out of work for some time and was anxious to obtain employment. Why he left without extra clothing, a hat, or money when he had money in the bank, is a mystery.

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

SPIRITUALISM IS EXPLAINED BY REV. ANDRES

"As the scaffolding is necessary in the erection of a building, so the phenomena are necessary in proving the continuity of life and demonstrating spirit return," said the Rev. Paul Andres yesterday in his lecture at the Federation Spiritual Science church. "From this standpoint spiritualism is a religion and its mission is to demonstrate and emphasize and make real to humanity the fact of life's continuity and progression. Its purpose is to give men a sense of the reality and truth of the spirit world, the Kingdom of God, about which we have been told so much, but in cloudy generalities, leaving only a dreamy, vague and undefined impression on the mind and producing no real effect on the life and conduct.

"Its mission is to emphasize the spiritual in life and the real, the valuable and the permanent, and to relegate the material to its own proper secondary place in human thought, affection and conduct. It has a further and most important mission in comforting the sorrowing and instructing the ignorant in spiritual knowledge.

"It seeks to educate, inspire and help its followers to rise up in thought, purpose and ideals to the level of those spirit intelligences who can instruct and enable us—rather than drag these intelligences down to the low level of thought and affection on which most mortals live. It teaches us how to attract into our life work and into interest and participation with our labors, the noblest worker for human good who have passed into the higher life, by becoming ourselves interested in, and workers for, those noble purposes which engaged the thoughts and services of the great patriots, humanitarians and religious leaders and teachers of mankind.

"It recognizes the fact that all religions have some truth and no religion has all truth. Its motto to its followers is, 'Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free'."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The apepal of the Psalmist, "Turn us again, O God of hosts, and cause thy face to shine; and we shall be saved," constituted the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality," Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

One of the Bible selections included Paul's words to the Philippians: "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. . . . Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, contained the following statement: "Hold thought steadfastly to the enduring, the good, and the true, and you will bring these into your experience proportionably to their occupancy of your thoughts."

REV. BUCHANAN TO ATTEND CONCLAVE

The Rev. Walter S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, left last evening for Washington, D. C., where he is to attend the national and international convention of the church, which convenes in the nation's capital this month. He will represent the Santa Ana church and also the district of Southern California. While on the trip he plans to visit his old home in Lebanon, Ind. The church leader will not return until the end of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gerrard, members of the congregation also are attending the convention. They left several weeks ago for a trip through Canada on the way to the convention. Gerrard is chairman of the board of elders of the local church and is active in church affairs.

SAYS TRUST IN GOD IS LESSON OF OLD POETRY

In the series of sermons which he is presenting to his congregation on great messages, the Rev. Harry Evan Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church, preached yesterday on "The Message of Hebrew Poetry." He declared that the theme of the Old Testament was that God is to be trusted regardless of what might happen. He said in part:

"There seems to be this central message running through the poetry of the Old Testament—Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, Song of Solomon, namely, that God is to be trusted and nothing is to dislodge us in our attachment to Him. This trust is to show itself in two phases: First, God is to be tied to as Guide, Companion, Comfort, and Stay of the life. The twenty-third Psalm is typical of this urge to abiding trust. And second, Man is to tie up to God's goodness even though the evil man seems to prosper and the good man seems to fail in his clinging to goodness. This is the argument of the Book of Job and is expressed by the Psalm-writer, 'Fret not thyself because of the evil doer and his prospering in his way.'

"Surely that message in its twofold aspect is required by the twentieth century. We are coming upon a day when in our smug self-sufficiency we act as though we can get along without God. We have not much need of Him. Even when we assent to a cold belief in Him we do not practice His presence enough to make Him real and vital to our living. And how often in the keen competition of business life do we need to be steadied when the unscrupulous man seems to get ahead while the conscientious man seems to lose out. How we need the faith then that holds on to the God of righteousness and believes that 'though the wrong is oft so strong, God is the ruler yet.' The twentieth century man needs the uncompromising conviction of the Job of ancient days, 'Even though he slay me yet will I trust in Him.'"

It is necessary to make a last hard pull to get over the hill; otherwise all other effort is wasted.

He who hesitates sometimes gets bumped.

DEFINITION OF SIN EXPLAINED BY REV. SEWELL

A definition of sin and the method of forgiveness was given to an interested congregation at the Broadway and Walnut street Church of Christ yesterday morning by the Rev. James H. Sewell, whose sermon subject was "The Remedy for Sin." The Scripture reading was from Philippians, 2:5-12.

'What is sin?" the Rev. Mr. Sewell asked, and continued, "The Bible tells us sin is the transthe state itself. We sin against the state when we violate a statute of the state, and the only power that can forgive that sin is the stae itself. We sin against the federal government when we violate a law of that government, and only the government can forgive that sin. We sin against God when we violate His laws and disobey His commands, and it is within the province of God alone to forgive that sin. Sin in the spiritual world is violation of God's laws, and in God alone is the forgiving power.

'God could not and would not hold man responsible for violation of His law unless He had revealed His will to man and given him plain instruction how to live and develop. God has constantly revealed His will to man, and man has repeatedly and constantly violated that will, and this sin has blighted man's soul and polluted his life. If he dies with the stain of sin on his soul, he cannot live with God, for no sin can stand in God's presence.

"If God should forgive man again and again, man making no effort to quit sin, there would be no reformation in that, and man would only grow more and more sinful. That would be a violation of justice, which is one of the fundamental attributes of God. Justice demands that there be a penalty for sin, and God has decreed that for every violation of law a penalty must be paid.

"Jesus Christ came into the world that He might pay the penalty for the sins of the world. Being the Son of God, He had the power to forgive sin. He came to earth, lived a life of privation and suffering, 'made Himself of low reputation' and finally died on the cross—the most shameful humiliating, painful death it was possible to die, to pay the penalty for man's sin. His great sacrifice touches our hearts and induces us to accept, on God's own terms, the salvation offered. He is our Great Exemplar, and we should try to shape our lives like His sinless life, heeding the admonition of the Apostle Paul: 'Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; for it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do His good pleasure.'"

W. C. T. U. of Brea Names Delegates

BREA, Oct. 6.—Brea delegates to the state convention of the W. C. T. U. will be Mrs. Alex Kuenzli and Mrs. A. B. Bowie. Mrs. W. J. Oldfield has been named as alternate delegate The convention will be held in Santa Ana on October 7 to October 10, inclusive.

The Brea W. C. T. U. was organized less than a year ago and is steadily adding new members. The organization is actively headed by Mrs. Bowie.

LOCAL PASTOR RETURNS AFTER TRIP TO NORTH

The Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, returned to his pulpit yesterday following an absence of three weeks during which he made an extended tour of the Pacific Northwest. Mrs. Nelle Fies, soprano, of Pasadena, sang, "When Mine Eyes Beheld the King," at the morning service.

"Obedience Under Protest," was the theme of the morning sermon, based upon the text, "Nevertheless, at thy word, we will let down the nets." The Rev. Mr. Harding spoke in part as follows:

"It is a wonderful thing to be emotionally blessed, but it is also a dangerous thing, for there is always the possibility of substituting mere emotionalism for duty. It is easy to follow the line of least effort and resistance and to come to consider Christian experience a matter of merely feeling good. John Wesley said, 'We must be forever trampling under foot that enthusiastic doctrine that we must do good only when we feel like it.'"

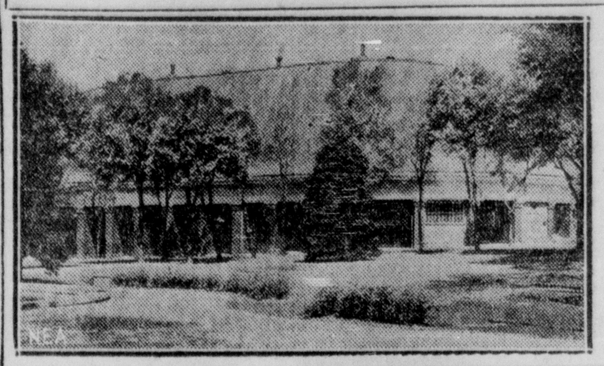

"There is far more to the religion of Jesus Christ than emotional blessing. We must be determined to follow and obey Christ because He is Christ. In our lesson, Jesus took charge of the situation and commanded the disciples to let down the net. 'We have toiled all night,' they protested, 'and have caught nothing.' Discouraged and weak they felt that everything was against them. If no fish were caught in the quiet of the night, they reasoned, how could they be caught in the light and din of the day. But finally, they agreed to obey, although under protest.

"This incident holds a pointed lesson for us as a church. We are liable to the same temptation to discouragement. Looking about we too may feel that everything is against us and that progress is impossible. We can take a penny pencil and figure faith and God out of our consideration. But like the disciples, let us say with faith, 'Nevertheless, at thy word," we will obey God and go forward.

"The finest result of the present business depression will be a revival of faith in God. If we as a church should advance and build in a time of prosperity it might seem that it was the work of man. But if we can go forward in spite of the discouraging and weakening forces, then we and others will be made to feel that it is truly the work of God and has been accomplished by His help. Let us, with firm faith in God, go forward and build in this city a temple of God which shall ever be a monument to His glory and to the faith of a people who trusted Him."

'UMBRELLA CHURCH'

Shaped like a parasol, the Mormon tabernacle, shown below, is so quiet that the drop of a pin can be heard inside.

TABERNACLE BUILT BY UTAH PIONEERS IN WILDERNESS IS MARVEL OF ARCHITECT'S ART

Religious songs ringing in their ears, Mormon pioneers trudged westward to Salt Lake City and under the leadership of Brigham Young erected, in 1863-67, the world-famous Mormon Tabernacle in Utah wilderness.

This unique church, known as "the huge umbrella building" because of its shape, is far more wonderful architecturally than the imposing $4,000,000 Mormon Temple, located nearby, which was completed in 1893.

Built by supposedly little-educated pioneers, the tabernacle has a self-supporting wooden roof 250 feet long, 150 feet wide and 80 feet high that is a marvelous triumph of engineering skill. It rests upon pillars or buttresses of red sandstone, which stand 10 to 12 feet apart in the whole circumference of the building. The arches are put together with wooden pins.

The building was constructed without metal nails. The acoustics is amazing. A pin dropped in the tabernacle is heard 200 feet away with incredible distinctness.

There were no railroads in Utah when the church was erected and all the imported material used in construction had to be hauled with ox-teams from the Missouri river. It was for this reason that wooden pins were used in place of heavy nails. The original cost, exclusive of the massive organ, was $300,000.

Unlike the mysterious temple, in which no gentile (a non-Mormon) is permitted, the tabernacle is open to everyone. Free organ recitals are given daily and each Monday a radio program is broadcast over a national chain.

The pipe organ is one of the finest in the world. Giant pipes range from three-fourths inch to 32 feet in height.

Construction of the organ was begun by the pioneers in 1866 and was finished after 18 months' work by 100 men. White vertical grain pine, hauled 400 miles, from near St. George in southern Utah, was used. When the organ was rebuilt in 1915, the original case was preserved and an iddition of 15 feet made on each side. Thus, the organ retains its original voice. There are now seven organs in the complete instruments, with between 7000 and 8000 pipes.

Mormons still meet here and sing the song which inspired the pioneer workmen who constructed the tabernacle:

"Come, come ye Saints,
No toil and labor fear—
All is well, all is well . . ."

BREA

Mrs. Della Lewis, noble grand of Trinity Rebekah lodge, will be the hostess chairman Monday night, at the last of the card parties of the series being given by this organization. Awards for the series as well as for the evening will be made.

Members of the Girls' Reserve cabinet, chaperoned by Miss Ethel Mumsford, secretary of the north Orange county Y. W. C. A., and Miss Ruth Goodwin, leader of the girls in the Brea-Olinda union high school, will spend th eweek end at the W. D. Shaffer and W. W. Hay apartments in Balboa.

Members of the cabinet are Betty Shaffer, president; Mildred Teel, vice president; Isabel Hennessey, secretary, Vesta Brawley, treasurer; Caroline Moore, program chairman; Miriam Cuming, service; Ida Hamilton, publicity; Bea Wooliver, social; Mable Smith, emblems.

Whitewash is good for woodsheds but not so good for sinners.

MINISTER SAYS SUFFERING IS RESULT OF SIN

"Jesus, the Only Comforter," was the subject discussed for his congregation yesterday in the morning sermon preached by the Rev. William Schmoock, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, located at East Sixth and Lacy streets.

"Suffering, sorrow and death come to all men because all have sinned," he declared. "It is always and everywhere the same. Despite all human progress, science, skill and love there is no place where sorrow and death do not reign. Thus it was at Nain where the widow's son was carried to the grave.

"The beautiful scenery of Nain, the hosts of kindly friends and acquaintances extending their sympathy could not change the fact of death and its surroundings. They could not offer real help and comfort to the widow.

'But Jesus comes. He brings comfort and help. He offers life and light. In Him there is life; He is the light that lights the way out of death and darkness. Jesus has ever been the life and light of the world, and there is none other. He is always full of compassion—the sympathy that induced Him to take upon Himself the form of a servant, to become obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. Out of that compassion He calls to all dying mankind: 'Weep not.' Speaking thus He reveals Himself as the Victor over death, who has brought life and immortality from the grave.

"There is none other. Look to Him as you bury your dead and also as you contemplate your own dying hour. He only can and will enable you to triumph over death and the grave."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6.—The U. S. Coast Guard has taken to the air. Eight new radio-equipped airplanes are being purchased by this force to aid in patrolling the seaboard and the Great Lakes.

TEMPTATION IS OF TWO TYPES, SAYS MINISTER

Pointing out that there are two different types of temptation, that we are liable to temptation everywhere, regardless of surrounding conditions, and that there is one sure way of deliverance from evil, the Rev. J. W. Saunders, evangelist at the Southside Church of Christ, preached yesterday morning on "Temptation." He said in part:

"The word tempt is used in the Bible in two different senses, first to try, as God tried Abraham, and second, to entice, as Satan tempted Christ. God's trials are always designed for our good, Satan's for our downfall. Satan tempted Christ in the latter sense.

"Notice the time of the temptation. It was just following the Father's acknowledgment of His son. Perhaps some who have never experienced temptation — if there be such persons—have never been acknowledged by God. Such of course would not be subjects of temptation, there would be no need of it. They are already degraded because they have never been uplifted.

"Notice the place of the temptation. Eve was tempted while surrounded by every material comfort; Christ was tempted in the wilderness surrounded by desolation. The idea that loneliness prevents temptation is erroneous. The Bible teaches us that we are liable to temptation anywhere.

"The fact that Jesus himself was tempted is proof of His humanity. God cannot be tempted. Jesus was human as well as divine. 'He was tempted in all points as we are, yet without sin.'

"Jesus gained a victory over temptation by a supreme trust in God's word. A falling back on God's promises will deliver the Christian from every evil thing."

Dinner Hosts Present Interesting Party For Honoree

In accepting an informal invitation to a little Sunday night supper with Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Hill, in their home at 1019 Hickory street, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrews unsuspectingly fell in with the friendly plans made by Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Henry S. Williams and Mrs. J. H. Daniger, to compliment the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Andrews.

Upon the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, they were quite amazed to see not their supposed hosts alone, but the remaining members of the hospitable sextette, Mr. and Mrs. Daniger and Mr. and Mrs. Williams, together with Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hyde jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Elliott.

The "informal supper" resolved itself into a most delightful dinner party for which tables were arranged in a striking black and white effect. Each table was centered with a clever arrangement of snowy blossoms twined at the base of ebon candles, and place cards continued the effective color scheme with their quaint little silhouettes.

In the evening of bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde scored high and received the appropriate gift of a set of modern card decks in silhouette design, while a black and white etching as second prize, was presented Mr. and Mrs. Elliott. The gifts were wrapped and tied to conform to the decorative scheme, as was the birthday gift of a handsome silk party bag to Mrs. Andrews from her hosts.

Bridge Club Members Were Entertained In State Home

Members of the P. and R. bridge club enjoyed a most delightful session Saturday evening when they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. John State in their home at 1409 West Fourth street. Fall flowers in mixed bouquets provided a floral setting for the affair.

As a result of the diversion of the evening, Mrs. S. W. Sala held high score and Fred Lentz upheld men's honors. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Those present other than Mr. and Mrs. State, were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Miller of Orange, as club guests, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Clem, Mr. and Mrs. George Venners, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lentz, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Sala, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jones of San Diego.

College French Club Elects Officers For New Year

At a charmingly informal French tea, members of L'Hotel de Rambouillet, French club for advanced students of that language of Santa Ana junior college, met Friday afternoon in the college "Y" hut and discussed plans for the year.

In addition to the regular meetings which are to be held on the first Friday night of each month, the organization has planned to give progressive dinners, a Christmas party, French breakfasts, which proved so popular last year, and other forms of amusements. On next Friday Miss Louella Marshall has invited the members to hold a beach party at her home in Laguna Beach.

Miss Evelyn Parks presided until officers were elected as follows: Miss Evelyn Parks, president; Miss Marie Moog, vice president; Miss Velma Bishop, secretary; Ed Kilbourne, treasurer; Miss Marcia Elliott, program chairman; John ("Sky") Dunlap, publicity, and as the club has decided to sponsor a French orchestra this year, Miss Joanna Day has been selected as chairman. Miss Lella B. Watson is advisor of the club.

Wedding Anniversary Was Occasion For Surprise Party

The fact that yesterday was the fifty-second anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Northrop, 1013 North Broadway, was seized upon by a group of friends of Mrs. Northrop, as offering opportunity for a delightful affair of Saturday, when she was surprised by the unexpected arrival of her friends for an evening of bridge and cootie.

The thoughtful guests came fully supplied with everything to add to the evening's enjoyment, and at a late hour served a delectable refreshment course carrying out a Hallowe'en motif. Also evidencing the good wishes of those assembled was an exquisite bouquet of roses presented to Mrs. Northrop.

Sharing the affair with Mrs. Northrop were Mesdames Nellie Young, R. V. Cox, Amanda Holmes, A. W. Getchel, Henry Walters, Elise Bohling, A. N. Mosier, Jennie Ellis, Arthur Howard, C. T. Cleland, Amelia Perkins and F. Cunningham.

Triplett Home Was Scene of Merry Dancing Party

Members of Santa Ana's younger set shared in a most pleasant affair Friday night when they were bidden to the F. A. Triplett home at 121 Orange avenue, to help celebrate the birthday anniversary of the daughter of the home, Miss Winifred Triplett. Informality reigned throughout the evening, with dancing as the main diversion.

Cooling punch was served the dancers during the evening and at a late hour a delectable supper was served. Feathery asters in pink and white provided a charming setting for the affair, and were in harmony with the prettily decorated birthday cake which graced the dessert course. Miss Triplett received a number of lovely gifts.

Those present, other than the hostess, Miss Triplett, were the Misses Lois Waldren, Velma Forrester and Dorothy Randall and Messrs. William Proctor, Frank Lansdown, Harry Clark, Harold Brock and Jess Maret.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Northwest Section

About 50 members of the Northwest section of the Aid society of the First Presbyterian church were present yesterday afternoon at the meeting held in the lovely C. L. Cotant home at 2003 Victoria Drive. A variety of mixed bouquets adorned the home.

Mrs. S. E. Dearth, vice-president of the society, presided during the afternoon, and introduced Mrs. Sam Nau who followed with a most delightful account of her recent trip abroad. She displayed a quantity of beautiful handwork which she brought back with her. Travels continued as the topic of the day when Mrs. Mary Callaway told of her recent trip to Alaska.

A delectable refreshment course was served late in the afternoon, and consisted of orange ice, individual cakes, sweet meats and coffee.

Three bridges are being widened between Ontario and Wineville on Riverside Boulevard. No detours are provided and travel must slow down, advises the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Informal Dinner Party Was Lovely Event of The Past Week

Delightfully informal was a little dinner party of Friday evening when Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Loerch jr., were hosts in their attratcive home on North Main street. A cut amber crystal bowl filled with brillinat orange and yellow zinnias centered the table, where other appointments evidenced the lovely amber ware. Yellow tapers added their glowing note to the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnson of 1919 Greenleaf street were the guests of the evening, and following the delectable dinner, several rounds of bridge were enjoyed.

Dr. and Mrs. Loerch entertained as week end guests, Mrs. Loerch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Schofield of Hollywood.

P.-T. A. In Session

The first meeting of the Garden Grove grammar school P.-T. A. was held in the Washington school Thursday afternoon.

Plans for making the association a standard organization this year were discussed and decided upon.

Nine associations in the fourth district attained standard rating last year and Garden Grove hopes to do so this year.

A program consisting of two numbers by the faculty trio, Miss Baumgardner, Miss Toland and Miss Wheeler, followed by short talks by Miss Durward, Miss Summerfield and Miss Carmichael on their trip to Europe this summer was entertaining as well as instructive.

Program Enjoyed

The first meeting of the club year was held by the Woman's Civic club Friday afternoon.

Mrs. W. M. Kelsey was chairman of the program. Entertainers from the Orange County fair presented a delightful musical program.

The following new sembers were initiated by the president, Mrs. George Lewis: Mrs. C. B. Shotwel, Mrs. Kenneth Arkley, Mrs. Howard Barnes, Mrs. Charles Lake, Mrs. C. B. Law, Mrs. Rodney Collins, Mrs. R. A. Oldfield, Mrs. E. Edwards, Mrs. Robert Trotter, Mrs. C. A. Hunt, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. Edith Johnson, Mrs. Frank De Valon, Mrs. Nellie Gray Jones.

Plans were discussed for a dance for members and their friends on Friday evening, November 1. The committee in charge is Mrs. C. L. Pearson, Mrs. Jack Jentges, Mrs. A. C. Robbins and Mrs. C. B. Henry.

A public card party will be given at the home of Mrs. C. L. Pearson, October 21.

Mrs. Camille Nicholas announced that the golf section will meet next Friday at Willbrook. Dainty refreshments were served to 35 members.

Surprise Party

Mrs. M. E. Files and daughters were given a pleasant surprise at their home on Walnut street Friday evening, when a group of friends gathered for a house warming. They recently moved here from Santa Ana.

The evening was spent in games and conversation after which light refreshments brought by the self-invited guests were served.

The guests were Mesdames Leah Heaton, Mattie Watson, Nellie Minter, Clara Andrew, Rebecca Peterkin, Edith Minter and Alice Milligan, of Orange; Lonie Thurston, Minnie Potts, Nola Godfrey, Emma Honald of Huntington Beach; Mrs. Cever Stockton, of Wintersburg; Margaret Clem, Daisy Ross, Dottie Gulledge, Ethel Haskel, Adeline Winsor, Geraldine Beall, Florence Dunn, Lucille Russell and Ida Mae Clem, of Santa Ana.

Co-hostesses Present Delightful Function In Naples Hotel

Anticipations entertained during the past weeks by friends of Mrs. J. N. Bartholomew and Mrs. William L. Deimling, regarding the luncheon at Hotel Naples to which they issued invitations to a large guest list, were fully realized Saturday, when the function proved one of the most enjoyable affairs imaginable.

The unexpected warmth of the day made the breeze-swept resort hotel, a cool and delightful haven, and its outlook over the sparkling waves of the Pacific, it formed one of the most attractive settings for the hospitality, that could be asked. The two hostesses greeted their guests in the airy foyer, which with its adjoining rooms en suite, offered opportunity for friendly informal chats prior to the luncheon hour.

Pompon dahlias in a variety of delicate colors, made gay splashes of color on the small tables where guests were grouped for the enjoyment of a daintily served and enjoyable luncheon menu. During this interval, tables for bridge were arranged in the foyer, each table spread with black bordered with some one of the softer shades of rose, green, blue, etc. There was no formal assignment of partners, players grouping themselves as they wished, and finding their tally cards enclosed with the score pads in pretty modernistic design.

Mrs. Deimling and Mrs. Bartholomew had the assistance of Mrs. A. G. Flagg, Mrs. Charles A. Vance and Mrs. Emrys D. White, in various hostess duties, including the collecting of the tally cards.

Scores revealed by this final feature showed that Mrs. Aldric Worswick was high, with Mrs. Frank Champion of Laguna Beach, second. The gifts, in their vivid autumn-hued wrappings, were identical, and proved to be the most fascinating of folding Chinese tea tables in teakwood, with removable trays of etched brass.

There were over twenty tables in lay during the afternoon, and several interesting guests from other cities of the Southland were presented to the Santa Ana friends of the two hostesses. Many summer travelers were present to be greeted, and included among others, Mrs. Susan Rutherford, just home from a 'round-the-world voyage; Mrs. George Briggs, who, with her daughter, Miss Janet Briggs, spent the summer in the Orient, and Mrs. Helen Hell, whose summer travels took her to the South Seas and Australia.

Young Artiste Appears Before Exclusive Hollywood Club

Mrs. Allen Lair and her daughter, Miss Allien Lair, 309 East Tenth street, returned Saturday evening from a delightful visit in Hollywood where they were guests in the beautiful hill-top home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Osborne, Chislehurst Drive.

During their stay, they were privileged to attend the breakfast with which the exclusive La Camarada club, opened its autumn and winter activities. The breakfast was given in the patio of the Osborne home, and was a most enjoyable function at which some 65 guests were entertained. Miss Lair was complimented by being asked to appear on the program, and gave Liszt's "Sospiro," following it by a dainty waltz song of her own composition, as a request number.

The waltz song by this talented young Santa Ana pianist, has received much favorable attention, and when she played it at a musicale given at Catalina Island in the summer, Madame Ellen Beach Yaw asked the privilege of naming it, choosing the name of its composer, "Allien." Madame Yaw gave as her reason, the fact that the composition so completely expressed the personality of Miss Lair, that she believed it should bear her name.

Friends of Miss Lair were especially interested in her appearance before the well-known Hollywood club, for eastern musicians and literary folk generally, consider it one of the highest honors of a California visit, to be extended an invitation to appear on a program for La Camarada members.

The road from Palm Springs to Palm Canyon is not advisable temporarily due to a washout, according to a report received by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

CANAL ACROSS BRITAIN

LONDON, Oct. 6.—A huge canal across England to provide work for thousands of unemployed is being put before the ministrry of labor. The ship canal would connect the Solway Firth with the Tyne. England at this point is only 100 miles from east to west. Business men and farmers are in favor of the scheme, for besides keeping trade in the north, it would stimulate business in Irish cattle and provide a cheap means of transit.

University Women Will Hold Opening Meeting Thursday Evening

Promising to be most interesting is the program planned for 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, October 9, in the Y. W. C. A. rooms when the Orange county chapter of the American Association of University Women will hold its first meeting of the season. All university women of the county are cordially invited to attend, as the affair will be an open session.

The program committee has planned a series of popular science talks for the season, and Mrs. John Tessmann will give the first of these on Thursday night, with "Astronomy" as her subject. Sharing the program will be Mrs. Loyal King with a talk on "Highlights of the Convention."

Organized in 1925 with Mrs. Edith Thatcher as president, the club has had a most successful existence. Succeeding presidents were Mrs. Robert Horn and Miss Anna Trythall. Present officers are Mrs. Harold Girton of Anaheim, president: Miss Lillian Dickson, vice-president; Miss Florence Lindblom of Tustin, treasurer; Miss Genevieve Humiston, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. R. Byrne of Tustin, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Brisco, Mrs. H. O. Ehlen of Orange, Mrs. Horace Scott and Miss Anna Trythall, directors.

In continuing with their work since organizing five years ago, members of the organization have striven to carry out the three-fold aim of the American Association of University Women, and of the International Federation of University Women, with which it is affiliated. Included in the aim is the promotion of fellowship among university women, the furthering of practical educational work, and the study of international relations. The local branch promotes the first of these through occasional meetings and parties of a purely social nature. Interest in education is cared for by contributing to the local scholarship fund, and the third aim is realized through programs featuring speakers who have first hand knowledge of international problems.

It has been announced that national membership in the association is open to all women with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, Science, or Philosophy from approved colleges or universities. Women who have completed two years of work in approved colleges are eligible for associate membership. However, the local branch admits both national and associate members and of the 600 educational units in the United States, 159 are accredited by the association. Anyone desiring information as to her eligibility to the organization may obtain it from Mrs. Horace Scott, 613 South Ross street, or telephone her at 5263W.

WESTMINSTER

Mrs. Nellie Groeschner spent a day here from Long Beach visiting her mother, Mrs. Winifred Morris.

A birthday anniversary dinner party was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Gentry in honor of Mrs. W. W. Huffman, on the date of her anniversary, with four families, all former eastern friends, present. They were Mr. and Mrs. John Angell, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Huffman and family, and Mrs. Gentry and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lawrence had as a surprise guest in their home over night Wednesday, Mr. Lawrence's brother-in-law, Arthur Vaughn, of Sherman, Texas. Mr. Vaughn, who is sheriff of Grayson county, Texas, motored through from Sherman accompanied by a deputy to take back three prisoners captured in San Bernardino.

On the first of the league games played by Westminster the three local teams won in each instance. Hoover boys played Fountain Valley, winning by a score of 14 to 5. Westminster boys played Seal Beach and were winners by a score of 14 to 6 and Westminster girls won from the Seal Beach girls with a score of 14 to 6. Hoover boys play Oceanview next Wednesday at Hoover school and the two Westminster school teams do not play that day.

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Oct. 6.—Election of officers was held at the first meeting of the Baptist church brotherhood Friday evening at the Baptist church. The officers elected were Paul Thornton, president; W. P. Mills, vice president; Ralph Zumwalt, treasurer; L. O. Curry, secretary; William Merryman, sergeant-at-arms, and Worth Connor jr., sergeant-at-arms.

Hereafter the brotherhood will meet every third Monday of each month.

E. R. Berry will be the speaker at the first meeting of the La Habra Parent-Teacher association this term at the Washington school auditorium next Wednesday afternoon. He will outline the school's work to the parents and talk on the objectives to be covered by the P.-T. A.

When the La Habra Woman's Improvement club meets for the first meeting after the summer recess Thursday afternoon, Mrs. A. E. Block, of Santa Ana, a member of the foundation fund, will speak.

To promote a friendly spirit among students of the various communities attending the Fullerton junior college, social events have been arranged, one of which was held Friday evening at the home of Miss Elith McClure, of East Erna street, La Habra.

Miss McClure and the Misses Ruth and Enid Dunavant were hostesses for the evening, being sponsors for the freshman girls at the college.

The party was in the nature of a Hallowe'en affair and the spirit of the occasion prevailed in the decorations and also in the prizes presented to Mrs. H. Litchfield, dean of girls at the college, and to Miss Bess Mattinson.

Ghost stories, mystery games and fortunes occupied the early hours of the evening following a Hallowe'en dinner served the guests by the hostesses. Guests were Misses Dorothy Salters, Bess Mattinson, Phyliss Richey, Grace Sorenson and Mrs. Litchfield, of Fullerton.

When Fried Foods Are Safe

Do you know that people are very much like sheep in their mode of thinking? They find it far easier to "follow their leader" than to take some statement apart and see what makes its wheels go 'round. Take as an example the bad reputation culinary gossip attributes to fried foods, probably put forth by some confirmed dyspeptic whose worn-out stomach couldn't digest manna from Heaven.

But this opinion was expressed in such vehement terms that the rest of the world said: "He's so sure, he must be right, so we had better steer clear of fried foods." How about our forbears? The deep-fat frying kettle was a household institution and no one's digestion seemed an ythe worse, so where is the fly in this particular ointment?

Fried foods, whether pan-fried or deep-fat fried, are digestible if the temperature of the fat is sufficiently high to coat the surface of the cooking food in from 40 to 60 seconds. This high degree of heat puts a surface on the cooking food which makes soaking of the fat impossible.

So-o-o, the fly in our particular ointment turns out to be too much fat in combination (usually) with the starchy part of the cooking food. After the mass has reached the stomach and digestion is in process the digestive juices are unable to break up the food units, fermentation takes place, indigestion is the result ,and the sufferer immediately condemns all sorts of fried food.

Presently an announcement will appear in this column about some special material available on the cooking of fried foods. Watch for it.

TODAY'S RECIPE
LEMON BREAD PUDDING

2 cups scalded milk
1 3-4 cups stale bread crumbs
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons melted butter
4 egg yolks
Grated peel 1 lemon
4 egg whites, beaten stiff
1-2 cup powdered sugar
Juice of 1 lemon

Bring the milk to the boiling point, add butter, sugar and grated lemon peel. Take from the fire and partially cool before mixing in the bread crumbs, taken from the center of a dry loaf.

Let the crumbs and milk stand five minutes before the beaten egg yolks are added. Pour into a shallow buttered pudding dish and bake 30 minutes with the dish standing in hot water. Oven must be moderate (350 degrees F.)

The last three ingredients in the recipe are used to make the meringue. Beat the whites very dry, gradually adding the sifted powdered sugar as the beating proceeds. Fold in the lemon juice, spread the meringue over the pudding, return to the oven to brown. Chill well before serving.

Newport Beach

Water Discussed

The cheery Ebell clubhouse at Balboa was the scene Thursday noon, of a happy reunion of club friends, as 38 members met around the luncheon tables, which were beautifully decorated with zinnias and dahlias of tutumn hues.

Water was the topic ably discussed by Mrs. Albert Launer, state chairman of highways and waterways of the Federation of Women's clubs. The building of Boulder dam was clearly pictured, with its many engineering problems and possibilities, also the completion in the years to come. Highways, of by-gone days were compared with the modern arteries, which are an opportunity for all.

Mrs. Leah Pemberton, of Fullerton, soprano soloist with Miss Virginia Long, of Anaheim, as piano accompaniment, gave a group of five numbers, consisting of one operatic number, two Spanish gems and two American selections, 'The Slave," and "Ho! Mr. Piper."

Frank W. Crocker Newport fire chief, gave a talk on "Fire Prevention," making many timely suggestions.

Mrs. Mary C. Block, newly elected president, presided, and gave as her foreword for the year's work the thought "A thinking club, think through." "What does the Ebell mean to me?" What do I bring to the Ebell?

Among those included were Mesdames J. D. Douglas, A. Richardson, F. H. Shackelford, G. Conklin, H. O. Ensign, Harold Wahlberg, Emma Cartwright Stroup, E. B. Douglas, F. A. Gayden, F. L. Mathews, Howard H. Shook, J. A. Gant, E. I. Moore, Frank Fuller, F. D. Lewis, O. J. Aldrich, F. C. Brookings, R. H. Summers, A. J. Garfield, H. Sadler, L. L. Isbell, Lew Wallace, C. M. Deakins, A. H. Wilson, H. Cardoza Sloan, John W. Wells, K. A. Baum, J. P. Greeley, G. M. Grundy, W. W. Crozier, J. P. Schalter, A. L. Schellhous, the Misses Anne and Ida M. Segerstrom.

Feature of Gay Dinner Party

That approaching holiday when black cats, owls and bats hold full sway, provided a colorful motif for a dinner party of last evening when Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Hunter were hosts in their home at 1019 West First street. A large bouquet of orange pom-pon dahlias centered the table, while candles in the same hue were much in prominence. Place cards, too, were suggestive of Hallowe'en.

Bridge was the diversion of the evening, and orange and yellow candies were within reach of players who needed just such delicacies to spur them on to victory. Prize awards went to Mrs. C. G. Thatcher as holder of high score and to Mr. Thatcher as holder of second high.

Those sharing the delights of the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Hunter were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wykoff, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Thatcher, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Waldren, and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hardy

International Relations

People of the United States are in one of three classes, militaristic thinkers, progressive thinkers, or non-thinkers, it was stated by Mrs. E. E. Smith, state chairman of international relations" when she spoke to members and friends of the Friday Afternoon club Friday. The need of constructive thinking of adults and teaching of the young i nregard to international relations as touching peace were stressed in a clear and decisive manner.

Five numbers were sung by the club chorus, directed by Mrs. Ray Stedman. Sixteen members were added to the club. They are Mesdames J. D. Johnson, C. A. Morris, M. Chase, M. E. Perkins, R. C. Bell and Marie Stanton Eyerly.

Dr. M. B. Armstrong, club mother, gave a short talk, on appreciation of her club friends, and their friendliness. Tea was served in the run room.

'OFFICE WIFE' SEEN AT FOX-WEST COAST

Faith Baldwin, well-known writer, who will be remembered for her novel, "Three Women," caught the modern spirit in a forceful yet charming manner in her novel, "The Office Wife." This story, which as one of the most popular serial novels, appeared in the Cosmopolitan magazine, and later was published in book form, was made into a motion picture at the Warner Bros. studio. This will be presented at the Fox-West Coast theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Of all the present-day pictures, "The Office Wife" is most frank in presenting a situation that occurs constantly in our modern society. It deals wit hthe secretary who takes care of the husband's needs during the day—who works for him—who gives him advice—and takes care of some personal matters that he would otherwise have neglected, who eventually falls in love with him. How does the wife stand in this triangle? What is the husband's choice? All these matters are handled in the most effective manner in "The Office Wife."

Dorothy Mackail makes a most attractive "Office Wife," and Lewis Stone is splendid as the busy executive. Others in the cast are Hobart Bosworth, Walter Merrill, Brooks Benedict, Natalie Moorhead, Blanche Friderici, Dale Fuller and Joan Blondell.

PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Oct. 6—Little Bobbie Jerome, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jerome, won second place in the junior piano division at the county fair with her composition, "Japanese Dance."

Miss Dorothy Abbott, president of the Orange County Christian Endeavor union, has returned home from a summer spent abroad, being met in Los Angeles by her mother, Mrs. Sula Abbott, and by the Rev. and Mrs. D. J. Brigham.

Miss Nina McClellan, of Los Angeles, is a guest at the home of her niece, Mrs. Fred Tuffree.

Mrs. Ewell Stanfill entertained the members of the Missionary society of the Church of the Nazarene at her home Thursday, a covered dish luncheon being served at noon.

Mrs. E. Speckman is expecting her mother, Mrs. E. V. Davis, of Havana, Ill., for a visit shortly. Mrs. Davis expected to come several weeks ago, but her house burned early in the morning of the day she was to leave.

'MOBY DICK' HERE NOW, IS PRAISED

The appearance of John Barrymore in a new role, whether on stage or screen, is an event of great moment in the entertainment world. And his latest portrayal, that of mad Ahab, vengeful pursuer of the white whale, is his most magnificent.

Last night's audience at Walker's State theater, were loud in their approval of the star, and of the spectacular sea story which has all the thrills of adventure, together with a love story of haunting beauty.

The story is adapted from Herman Melville's immortal classic of whaling days, "Moby Dick," which recounts the legendary doing of the great white whale of the same name, destroyer of men and ships.

No person who appreciates great drama and great acting should miss this epic of the sea, "Moby Dick," with the supreme actor of the generation as the hero.

The OFFICE WIFE

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES by KNICK

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The Tinies were surprised to see the laundry boat and one said, "Gee, why do they have such things as that? Do folks live on the boat? Why I should think that they would try to hang them in some yard to dry. They might lose all those clothes, if out to sea the boat would float."

The Travel Man just smiled and then explained a lot of things again. Said he, "Well, son, they wash the clothes right here upon the shore. Right in the stream the washboards go and clothes are all rubbed to and fro. The clothes are shortly clean 'cause that is what the boards are for.

"And then, you see, the real fresh air is stronger here than anywhere. It blows along atop the stream and dries clothes mighty quick. That's why right on the boat they're hung. Out in the breeze they're promptly flung. It dries them in a short time and it's quite a clever trick."

"I guess you're right," wee Clowny said. "It seems we do not use our head, but ask you silly questions. I agree the plan's all right." And then he added, "I suppose that all those lines of nice white clothes are taken down and packed away ere day drifts into night."

"Sure, that's exactly what they do. That's to avoid the morning dew," replied the friendly Travel Man. "And now, let's hie along. I know where we can have some fun. Now, kindly walk! Don't start to run. We'll go out in a sail boat while the wind is good and strong."

They found a sailboat house nearby and Scouty let out quite a cry, "Oh, gee, just look at those large sails. I'll bet we'll go real fast." And then they climbed aboard the craft. The townsfolk, watching them just laughed. They whirled around. Then Scouty, cried, "We're on our way at last."

Missing Letter Links

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

NO DIFFERENCE

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6. — Women are no different than men when it comes to hair, despite the belief that women's hair is finer than men's. Mildred Trotter, of Washington university, proved that when she measured 10 hairs from the heads of 340 persons.

'SIN' SUBJECT OF FULLERTON PASTOR SUNDAY

FULLERTON, Oct. 6.—"Sin Discovered, Uncovered and Covered" was the subject of the sermon yesterday by the Rev. Francis E. Hawes, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Examples of sin's exposure from the scripture were told by the Rev. Mr. Hawes, who declared that a man's sin will always be discovered.

"A wise man once said, 'You can fool all of the people part of the time and part of the people all of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time,' quoted the Rev. Mr. Hawes. "Another said, 'Be not deceived, God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.' Also it is written, 'He that covereth his sin shall not prosper.' Much of the world's sin is committed in secret by people who persuade themselves to believe that they will not be caught. Others have been caught at the same sin but they are to be exceptions to the rule. The scriptures abound with examples of sin's exposure and sustained by history and experience. Let us consider a few cases:

God Looking On

"Cain committed his sin in secret—Gen.: 4:8-10. Walking in the field with his brother, he felt secure. No human eye could see. No ear could hear his brother's cry. But God was looking on, and when the deed had been committed, He said to Cain, 'The Voice of thy brother's blood cryeth unto me from the ground.'

"Esau's great sin was committed in an impulsive moment. If Esau had waited an hour, if he had reflected on the lasting result of his act, he would never have sold his birthright. An hour's reflection on the outcome of a contemplated sin would often save a man from that which desrtoys his character and damns his soul.

"It took years for the sin of Joseph's brothers to be discovered. But discovery came at last, bringing with it shame and disgrace. People may think that lapse of time or change of address or even their name will erase sins of the past, but it is not so. The wheels of God's justice are turning and sooner or later, discovery will come. If not in this life, then in the life beyond.

Justice Finds Trail

"Achan had his sin well covered. But the context shows how easy it was for God to disclose it. Smart people in all walks of life have tried to cover their sins so completely that discovery would be impossible. But justice finds the trail and reveals the hiding place.

"The great sin of Sampson was committed reluctantly. But it was discovered. Sin often comes as a climax to a long struggle between right and wrong. Sometimes sin like that of Ahab—1 Kings 21:7-20, may be prompted by others. Yet this does not prevent discovery nor shield from the consequences.

"Belshazzar committed his greatest sin behind closed doors in an hour of hilariousness. But his sin found him out and justice smote him. Drawn blinds and barred doors may shut out the eye of man, but God sees.

Consequences Same

"Some sins like that of Herod come as the result of a rash promise. But the consequences are always the same. This is a trip in which many are caught.

"Like the sin of Judas, some sins are today committed with the approval of the authorities. But sin is sin no matter what the form or under what pretense committed. Many are the crimes committed in the name of justice. Like the Jews, men may commit sin through ignorance. But that is no excuse for refusing to repent and seek forgiveness.

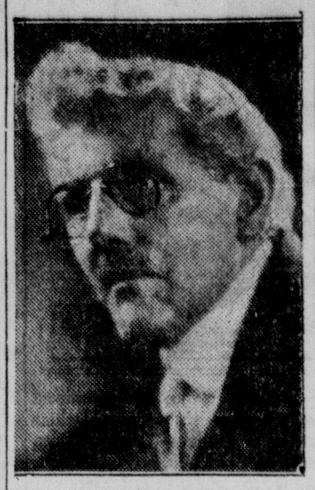

"There are two kinds of coverings for sin, man's covering and God's covering. From Eden until the present, men have sought ways and means of covering their sins. These coverings range all the way from self-righteousness to infidelity. But all through the scriptures we are warned that these are insufficient. One statement alone shows the folly of it, 'He that covereth his sin shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall find mercy'."

Pile Sufferers

You can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Nothing but an internal remedy can do this—that's why cutting and salves fail. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, is guaranteed to quickly and safely banish any form of Pile misery or money back. McCoy Drug Stores and druggists everywhere sell it with this guarantee. —Adv.

BUENA PARK POST OFFICERS INDUCTED

BUENA PARK, Oct. 6.—M. R. Speaker was installed commander of the Buena Park American Legion post Friday evening in the Legion headquarters. Other officers are, first vice commander, I. D. Jaynes; second vice commander, Hershell F. Jones; finance officer, Jack Siddall; historian, Lemuel A. Sopha; chaplain, Harry Havins, and sergeant-at-arms, Clyde Leonard. I. D. Jaynes, retiring commander, was installing officer.

The Legion will take over the LaBuena golf course every Tuesday evening from 7 o'clock, and it was decided to challenge the Buena Park Kiwanis club for a tournament.

Miniature Course Presented Cup

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Oct. 6. — Irene Cottle, of Newport Beach is so far the champion girl miniature golfer at the new El Patio indoor course here.

She won a cup donated by the proprietors of the course, Lloyd Claire and Lyman Boomer, competing with the three others who had had the lowest scores during the first week of the course being open.

Miss Cottle got an 80 for the 18 holes, which are more difficult than most miniature links, Gladys Clouse went around in 85, while Dorothy Ham and Florence Goodness made it in 95 each.

Other men's and women's tournaments are to be staged at the new course, the proprietors stated.

H. B. SERVICES CONTINUED FOR EXTRA PERIOD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 6.—The Charles Taylor evangelists, who have been conducting services at the First Baptist church for the past week, have decided to continue for another week.

The Rev. Charles Taylor has been a preacher for the past 30 years, starting as an evangelist more than 30 years ago in London, England. He has traveled all over the world and is declared to be an interesting speaker.

There are nine in the party of evangelists, all members of the Taylor family.

Services are held every night at 7:30 o'clock and the public is invited to attend.

CHILDREN GIVE PROGRAM FOR CHURCH SUNDAY

PLACENTIA, Oct. 6.—Children of the Sunday school of the Presbyterian church presented a Rally day program Sunday morning. Beginning with an organ prelude by Miss Louise Cottom, the program included a reading, "The Call to Worship," by Bonnie Jean Carlson; congregational song, "A Volunteer for Jesus;" reading, "Happy Little Messengers," by Betty Harkleroad and seven beginners, Barbara Lemke, Sunny Lemke, Marjorie White, Reba Jean Robbins, Daisy May Hartley and Dorothy Harlow; reading, "Rally Day" by Margaret Gillilan; a group of songs, "God's Home," "Praise Him" and "Jewels;" exercise, "His Bow in the Clouds" by seven junior girls, Katherine Gillilan, Doris Tuffree, Clara Jane Lemke, Patricia Adams, Glenda Pepper, Geraldine Edwardson, Ruth Edwardson and Jean Charlton; song, by Bobbie Jerome and the primary department.

Exercise, "Great Men of the Bible," by Ned Long, Berton Basten, Russell Smith, Edward Eisenacher, Wwight McCleary, Wayne Foss and Dwayne McCleary; reading "Boost," by DeWitt and LeRoy Lyon; offertory by four violins, played by Donald Edwardson, Audrey Harkleroad, Fred McCleary, and Maxson Foss; closing song by the congregation, "We've a Story to Tell to the Nation."

The Rev. D. J. Brigham spoke at both morning and evening services, and Miss Dorothy Abbott, president of the Orange County Christian Endeavor union, who has just returned from the World C. E. conference at Berlin, told her story of the convention at the Senior Christian Endeavor meeting.

At the evening service, Mrs. William Wallop and other delegates to the Presbyterian Evangelistic conference at Los Angeles gave their reports. Mrs. Wallop stressed Evangelism and stewardship, Andrew Ipsen spoke on Christian living, while Evion Basten brought out the necessity of training children for the battle of life, and of giving them a spiritual education equal to their intellectual education.

Harbor Booster Home From North

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Oct. 6. — Frank L. Smith, director of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce and members of the joint city council and chamber of commerce committee on harbor facilities, is back from a trip north where he inspected other coast harbors. He said that the supervisors of San Francisco are appropriating $100,000 a year for yacht facilities alone in San Francisco bay. The joint committee is expected soon to make recommendations regarding inside harbor improvements here.

Balboans Enjoy Visit To Ranch

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Oct. 6. — H. L. Sherman and four other Balboans, Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Briggs and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Welch spent the week end as guests of General M. H. Sherman, cousin of H. L.

They left here Saturday for El Tejon ranch, a 300,000-acre ranch near Bakersfield, owned by General Sherman and associates, and are slated to leave tonight to San Francisco by train. Tomorrow night they return from San Francisco by the S. S. Harvard for Wilmington.

The construction work between Bryn Mawr and Loma Linda has been completed, according to a report received by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

HARBOR AREA GROWTH SHOWN BY TELEPHONES

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Oct. 6.—The new Orange county telephone book, which made its appearance here Saturday and supplanted the old book Sunday morning, shows a big growth in the Newport harbor area.

Listings for the Newport Beach exchange including Newport Beach and Costa Mesa, in the new book total nearly six pages, as compared with four and a half pages in the old book. This is an increase of nearly one-third.

Both the first and last names in the latest harbor listing are new, O. R. Ackley coming ahead of J. L. Ainsworth, while J. D. Zinke is last on the list, in place of Fred W. Young.

Growth in telephones in the harbor district bear out figures in other activities showing a remarkable year for this area. Building for the first nine months of the year in this city is considerably above all 12 months of 1929, school attendance is higher by 20 per cent and real estate is more active.

OFFICERS FOR H. B. AUXILIARY, POST INDUCTED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 6.—Impressive ceremonies marked the joint installation of the American Legion and Legion auxiliary officers at city auditorium. The installation was open to the public and was well attended.

The Legion officers installed were, Herbert Gray, commander; Dr. P. E. Sheehan, first vice commander; L. H. Benningsdorf, second vice commander; P. B. Hess, finance officer; D. T. Johnson, adjutant; Pete Naley, sergeant-at-arms; Harlan Reed, chaplain; W. F. Curnutt, historian.

Auxiliary officers installed were, Mrs. May Benningsdorf, president; Mrs. Adah Kirkpatrick, first vice president; Mrs. Olive Larter, second vice president; Mrs. Harriet Johnson, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Heitz, historian; Mrs. Clarice Yost, sergeant-at-arms.

The Legion has enjoyed a remarkably successful year during the regime of W. F. Curnutt, retiring commander of the post. The Legion hall and lots on Alabama avenue have been fully paid for. The post has a checking account with a balance of several hundred dollars and has a building and loan certificate valued at $1200. A year ago the Legion post was in debt.

FULL PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR WHITE TEMPLE

ANAHEIM, Oct. 6. — Beginning Sunday and lasting throughout the week the White Temple Methodist church will observe a rally program. The Rev. Ralph W. Lee today announced the plans for the week.

Monday evening will be observed as rally to Sunday school night. Dr. C. W. Pearce, of Los Angeles, secretary to the Southern California Council of Religious Education, will speak on "The Modern Sunday School." Tuesday, rally to woman's organizations night, Mrs. Floyd Seaman, of Garden Grove, will talk on "Woman's Place in the Church." There will be a women's chorus, women's trio, solo and violin numbers. Wednesday night, designated as rally to Protestant faith night, Dr. Mottern, of Glendale, will be the featured speaker and will lecture on "Luther, the Monk Who Shook the World." His address will be illustrated by the use of 85 colored slides. Thursday evening the choir of the Wesley M. E. church Los Angeles, composed of 40 voices, will present a program designated as rally to music night. Friday evening, concluding the series of programs, the new building just completed for the use of the men's class will be dedicated. The women of the church will serve the men a chicken dinner after which Dr. Bentley, of Long Beach, will speak on "The Modern Men's Class."

90 Fathers, Sons Attend Banquet

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 6.—The father and son banquet given Friday evening at the Presbyterian church hall was a decided success, 90 fathers and sons of the community being in attendance. Supper was served at 6:30 o'clock. Dr. Thomas Walker, of Anaheim First Presbyterian church was the speaker of the evening, taking as his subject, "Unity in the Family."

A short program consisting of two vocal solos by Mrs. Ruth Johnson, piano solo, Marvin Penhall; harmonica solo, Gordon Hammond; vocal solo, Donald Melvin, was enjoyed.

Lively games and a tug-of-war occupied the evening following the supper and program.

Twelve women of the Happy Workers' society, Mrs. W. B. McCoy, Mrs. J. A. Murdy, Mrs. Ella Penhall, Mrs. Ruth Penhall, Mrs. J. H. Walton, Mrs. Marie Hare, Mrs. George Clough, Mrs. J. P. Peterson, Mrs. Charles Parr, Mrs. Mary Thompson, Miss Helen McCoy, Mary Lou Hare composed the committee which carried out plans for the supper and A. N. Olson was in general charge of the evening's program.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(UP)—Revolutionary disturbances in Brazil which resulted in a state of siege being declared in that country today, caused sharp breaks in a number of Brazilian and other South American bonds on the stock exchange today.

Rio Grande Do Sol 8's of 1946 broke 7½ points to new low ground to be followed by a 3½ point drop to new low levels in Brazil 7s, which sold at 7s. Losses ranging from ½ to 3 points were recorded by Brazil 8's, Brazil 7½s, Rio De Jane, Rio De Jeneiro 8's and Sao Paula 6s. Peru 6s sol doff a point. In the European list, Berlin 6½s droped 1½ points, followed by small losses in German bank 6s of July, 1960, and 7. Italy's 7s and French 7½s. United States government bonds held firm, and slightly above previous closing levels.

The decline in foreign issues spread to the railroad division around noon and declines ranging from ¾ to 1½ points were forced in Atchison 4½s, Fonda 4½s, Southern Raiway General 4s, and Missouri Pacific 4s. New York Central 3½s firmed up ⅝ of a point. In the domestic traction group, Interborough Rapid Transit 6s and 5s were under pressure, selling off a point and ¾ of a point respectively.

Early strength in utility isues melted away in later trading, as International Telephone and Telegraph 4½s led a downward movement in that group with a loss of 1¼ points.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

NEW YORK CURB

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(UP)—Curb stocks turned downward again in the initial session of the week today and prices in all sections of the list lost ground on renewed professional selling.

Sentiment, which was depressed by the pressure on leading utilities, oils and specialties, was bolstered somewhat by the fact that trading was very quiet on the decline, indicating that the selling had not brought out any large unloading of long accounts.

Electric Bond and Share led the reaction in the utilities with a decline of more than 3 opints, Brazilian Tractions was subject to a combination of depressing influences, consisting of the revolutionary news from the South American Republic and the general weaknes here, and dipped more than 2 points.

Loses ranging from 1 to more than 2 points took place in other leading utilities that were in steady supply. These included American and Foreign Power warrants, American Gas, American Light and Traction and United Light A. Cities Service eased a fraction.

Oils were hard pressed and were featured by a drop to a new low for the year in Gulf, Lion Oil sagged more than apoint,whileVacuumwas freely offered at a concession of almost a point.

SHERLOCK HOLMES—The Musgrave Ritual Musgrave's Story III. BY SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

Holmes continued to quote Musgrave's account of the strange events at the old manor house, Hurlstone, and how he had found the library lighted in the dead of night: "Brunton, the butler, was there. He sat with a slip of paper which looked like a map upon his knee, his forehead on his hand, deep in thought. I stood dumb with astonishment, watching him from the darkness.

"Suddenly, as I looked, he rose from his chair, and walking over to the bureau at the side, he unlocked it, and pulled out one of the drawers. From this he took a paper, and returning to his seat, he flattened the paper out on the edge of the table, and began to study it with minute attention.

© 1930 By Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

"My indignation at this calm examination of our family documents overcame me. I took a step forward. Brunton saw me in the doorway. He sprang to his feet, his face turned livid with fear, and he thrust into his breast the chart-like paper he had been studying.

"'So,' said I, 'This is how you repay the trust which we have reposed in you. You will leave my service tomorrow.'

"He bowed with a look of a man who is utterly crushed."

EVENING SALUTATION

An active faith can give thanks for a promise even though it be not yet performed, knowing that God's bonds are as good as ready money.

—MATTHEW HENRY.

EVERYONE SYMPATHIZES

The world was shocked by reading in yesterday morning's paper a brief statement of the explosion and destruction of the giant dirigible R-101 in France as it was on its route from London to India. The details were awaited with fear and anxiety and a realization that if the first report were true, not many in the ill-fated ship could survive. The detailed reports have proven these fears well founded, as out of the total number of 54, only eight men are living as this is being written, and some of these are seriously burned and injured.

The sympathy of the world goes out to Great Britain and to the families which lost members in this great disaster. It appears that the disaster was due to the heavy rain and violent wind, the former weighting the ship down, and the latter driving it from its course and rendering it more or less unmanageable. A moment after it struck the earth, it appears that it exploded with great violence, and burst into flames, with the 25 tons of oil aboard making the conflagration most terrible and imposing.

It is a sad day in England, and it is a sad hour for those interested in this method of travel, and in establishing a regular route between Great Britain and India by dirigible, but it is not believed that this will be a serious set-back to the development and use of this kind of craft for passenger and other service.

It should be remembered, however, that for various reasons this big ship had been declared to be obsolete and a failure a year ago by Commander Dennistoun Burney, airship designer. He predicted that it would be of little commercial value. While certain alterations were made, yet they did not go to the fundamentals of his criticism. But she was fitted out nevertheless, and started on her trial trip to India.

We do not know what the final verdict will be, but certainly it is not too much to believe that the chief reason for the destruction and almost complete loss of the lives of passengers and crew, was due rather to fire than to the disaster of being forced to earth. In fact, Rear-Admiral William A. Moffatt, chief of our own naval aeronautics has declared that the huge loss of life in this disaster was undoubtedly due to the explosion of the hydrogen gas. He urged that the United States should lift the ban now existing on the exporting of helium gas, which does not burn and will not explode. The United States is the only nation that possesses this gas in unlimited quantities, and it prohibits its exportation.

SCOREBOARD FANS

It is of interest to note from our editorial window the crowds about the baseball scoreboard of The Register. The various faces are a study; some of them indicate simply that they are being entertained; others that they are particularly interested in one of the teams, and as a successful or telling play or hit is made by one or the other team, the countenance changes in expression.

There is such a variety of ages, particularly in the crowd on Saturday, when the boys and girls were freed from school (for there were some girls watching the scoreboard). Young and old, ranging in ages probably from 8 to 80, and rich and poor, stood or sat shoulder to shoulder, watching with interest this great American game. There was employe and employer, banker and beggar, in a real democratic group with much the same thought and interest, and as they watched the lights flicker from pitcher to catcher or out in the field or to the bases, seeing in their imagination the game almost as vividly as if they were on the bleachers in St. Louis or Philadelphia.

They tell us American baseball is passing, but it is not through yet. In some sections, we are glad to note, there has been the greatest attendance and the most profitable year in the history of the game.

CAUTION AGAINST FIRE

Attention is particularly called, this week, to the hazards of fire. Proclamations from President Hoover and Mayor Purinton were published in The Register Saturday night, the eve of Fire Prevention week, which began yesterday.

Sixty-six per cent of all fatalities from fire take place in the home, said President Hoover. Furthermore, he called attention to the fact that North America leads the world in the amount of its annual fire waste. This can be largely attributed to the fact that in practically all of Europe and England, houses must be fireproof.

Special weeks are somewhat of a nuisance, particularly to editors. We should all of us be interested in better English all of the time, and surely in saving the babies, and possibly in eating apples, if "an apple a day" is the only way to "keep the doctor away." But here in our section, as Mayor Purinton pointed out, there is particular danger from fire at certain times, and we must exert the utmost diligence. Not only is there the destruction from fire, but there is a waste of water in putting out a fire which makes the fire waste treble here.

Furthermore, fire often destroys things which cannot be replaced at all. Just last week in Rochester, New York, there was a fire in Ward's Museum, an institution famous for its rare collections of scientific specimens gathered from every part of the world, many of which it will be impossible to replace. The specimens destroyed were the accumulation of more than sixty years. The loss alone on those things on which it is possible to estimate the value was placed at $200,000.

Santa Ana has a creditable record for fire prevention, but a record in this is never so good that it cannot be improved. It is the responsibility of the individual to keep the record up to its present standard and to improve the record. The fire department, fine as it is, cannot guard the community against the carelessness of the individuals in it. They are doing what they can to prevent fires by their vigilance in watching for fire hazards. Individuals must do the rest. Fire prevention week reminds each of us to do our share to guard against this very potent danger to our resources.

WISE WORDS TO US ALL

President Hoover's address at the twelfth annual convention of the American Legion today shows a human interest and personal knowledge of the doughboys' experiences and activities in the great war.

We believe every former soldier will appreciate his reference to those experiences and will realize that in his treatment of them he is speaking in an understanding and sympathetic vein. President Hoover, however, in his address demonstrated his statesmanship in at once proceeding to discuss the principles on which the American Legion is founded, and the application of those principles to these days of strenuous peace. His main emphasis throughout his address was on that portion of the principles embodied in the Constitution of the American Legion expressed in the words of their purpose: "To promote peace and good will on earth."

After drawing a parallel between the development of our country's industrial and economic life, and that of other nations in history which have used their immense power to dominate other nations, and suggesting that other countries have come to believe that they were in the presence of a new imperial power, intent upon the same thing, President Hoover wisely said:

> Such a conclusion would be the logical deduction from many instances during 3000 years of history when the exploitation of other people has been the outcome of the ability to do so. This we know is an utter misconception of America. We know there is no financial, traditional, or military imperialism in the American heart. We know, in fact, that we have opened the door of a new social and economic system by which within our own borders we shall create the conquest of poverty without exploiting other nations. But as wrong as these fears may be, it becomes our first duty to show by our every act, not alone by our Government but by our citizens, that our guide is justice and that confidence may be reposed in that sense of justice.

His emphasis then upon the necessity of building up agencies for the pacific solution of controversies and of the banishing of suspicion, of ill will toward other people, and that we should recognize that others have a right to the same devotion to their flag and are as sensitive to the dignity of their country as we, are natural corollaries of this fundamental purpose of good will and peace.

He next emphasizes the first purpose as expressed in the Constitution of the American Legion, namely: "to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order." And in this connection President Hoover very aptly says:

> Happily our ideal is my first and most sacred duty. As President of the United States I am sworn by the whole people to maintain the Constitution and to enforce the laws. No man should dare call himself a faithful American and suggest otherwise. You have recognized that the upholding of the Constitution and the enforcement of the laws must, however, not rest upon Government officials alone; it must rise from the stern demand and the loyal co-operation of good citizenship and individual responsibility to the community.

And so with clearness and with brevity the President emphasizes and drives home the importance of the ideals which dominate the Legion, and makes it a document well worth the careful perusal and the subject of meditation, not only by American Legion members, but of every American citizen.

Art and Economics

Oakland Tribune

Because an internationally famous artist, the Mexican Diego Rivera, is also a Communist, there is a controversy raging as to the propriety of allowing him to fulfill a contract to paint murals in the lunch room of a stock exchange in San Francisco. Perhaps this is the first time anyone has suggested that art and economics should mix in neutral tone, but the word is repeated that, whatever the man's beliefs, his is the hand which shall wield the brush, let red fall where it may.

To many it would seem if the artist has no objections to painting murals in a temple of finance and if the financiers feel they may enjoy their lunches despite the political philosophy of the one who paints, there is no issue. Aside from economics, a Rivera mural will be an asset to California.

Housewife's Hours Know No Union Regulations

San Bernardino Sun

The New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, investigating women's working hours, finds that the American woman does her housework in record time. In Switzerland women take 112 to 118 hours a week for their home duties. In France they take 92 to 115 hours. England and some other countries are more efficient, or at least get through quicker. The average American housekeeper puts in only 63 hours a week.

Yes, she has an easy time of it. That is, comparatively. It figures up to only nine hours a day for a seven-day week, or 10 hours per week day, with three hours on Sunday. Yet sex equality does not seem to have been attained yet, in working time. How many American men work 63 hours a week?

PERVERSE HUMANITY

The toad has neither charm nor grace,
He has a mean and leering face,

And ambles through a field or copse
With ugly and ungraceful hops.

He looks so hideous and grim
That people loath the sight of him,

And turn away in fear or wrath
If he shoud chance to cross their path.

Yet he destroys the bugs that prey
Upon our garden day by day

And leads the dickens of a dance
The insects which destroy our plants,

The butterfly, whose wings of fire
Or vivid color we admire

Plants grubs in flower, shrub and tree,
And soon their evil work we see

When everything at which we've toiled
Before the summer time is spoiled.

The trouble with this human race
Is that it loves a comely face

And takes no thought to look behind
Where there may lurk an evil mind.

I can detect a moral here
Which ought to be profound or clear

But men won't heed it, I'm afraid
For they are just the way they're made.

Smog

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Aviators have a good name for a combination of fog and smoke which obscures the vision. They call it Smog.

There is a lot of Smog in the business outlook today. It consists largely of the fog of economic theory and the smoke of political battle.

The fog of unsound economic theory can make the sunniest day look dismal. Such a fog is produced by the business cycle theory of "action and reaction."

According to this theory, business depressions are inevitable. The present slump has to run its course. There is nothing any one can do about it.

"To every action," we are warned, "there is an equal and opposite reaction. It is natural law. The farther we advance in an era of prosperity, the farther we MUST slump when the reaction sets in."

Into each cycle some rain must fall;
Some years must be dark and dreary.

These afflictions are ordained from on high. They are good for men's souls. Even to think of preventing such suffering is wicked.

This is the Smog which has filled the business skies for many months. There is scarcely anything to it. It is composed of one part superstition and two parts cowardice, throughly infused with ignorance.

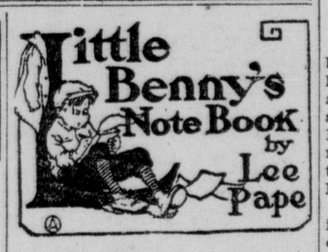

For there is no natural law of business cycles. Action and reaction in the domain of commerce need not be equal—in fact, never have been equal.

Business does not have to get worse before it can get better. It is ninety per cent subject to control. Every inch of recession is caused by the decisions of men, mainly unnecessary decisions. The economics of original sin is a man-made smoke-screen.

The Smog that now obscures our view would vanish instantly before the sun of common sense.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

AMERICA GOES FLUID

By the phrase "America Goes Fluid" I do not refer to its drinking habits but to the new nature of its social and economic life which political and business leadership must really take into account if it is to serve our future effectively.

The theories and techniques of our government were formed to fit a settled people. It is true that we trekked westward in our conquest of the continent, moving to ever newer frontiers, but, as a people, we had outgrown the hunter and herdsman habits, and were ready to set up and support social and political institutions that would serve the near-at-hand interests of our day-to-day lives and tenterprises.

The technical forces of facile transportation and far-flung economic enterprise have completely changed this picture.

The average American is today but loosely rooted in any particular soil. He is less and less likely to live and work and die in the locality of his birth. He is the come-and-go creature. He may be born in Massachusetts, educated in Wisconsin, married in Virginia, harnessed to a business career in Colorado, finally to die in California or in the sunshine of Southern France. The old homestead with its unbroken continuity of local loyalties, local interests, and local traditions is a fading memory. The forces of transportation have made this change.

And even when the mdoern American lives out his entire life in the locality of his birth, his major economic interests may be scattered throughout the nation and the world. The forces of credit, contract, capital and corporate organization have made this change from the era when men's interests were mainly where they lived to the era when men's interests and their residence may be leagues apart.

A steady delocalization of men's interests and loyalties has been going on ever since the dawn of the machine age and of modern business organization.

In figurative terms, we have broken camp and gone wandering again, as our ancestors wandered before they had established the institutions of localized governments.

We pitch our tents for a time here and there and yonder. We have shaken off the restraints of residence. An air of the tentative hovers over everything American.

What this means for our political and economic leadership I shall try to suggest in the next few days.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

IN HOT WATER

"I'm sure I wish something could be done with Tom. He's forever in hot water. If it's not one thing it's another. He never thinks. I have a path worn to school explaining. I've had to apologize to every neighbor for a mile about. What's to be done with him is more than I can see.

"Not a month ago, he was coming home from school with the other boys. Coming down the street was a lady and a boy, strangers. The boy was dressed like a picture in the mail order catalogue—white ducks, white hat, white shoes and all that. All dressed up, you know.

"What do you think? All of a sudden Tom spied him and without a word of warning he strikes out and punches that strange boy on the nose. Imagine that and me with a day's washing in the machine.

"Honestly, I was so mad when that woman came into my house and told me what my son had done that I could have beaten him. Luckily he stayed out of sight until they went away. I'd cooled off a little when he arrived. And why had he done it? 'I just couldn't help it. I saw him coming along like a sissie and my fist just went out. I didn't mean to hurt him. I don't even know him.'

"He's always like that. He will stand right up in the classroom and say something awful to the teacher because something doesn't suit him. He will give away his shirt and go naked if the impulse seizes him. He jumped on the back of a buss and it carried him twenty miles from home and he walked back. No reason for it that he could find. He will jump up from the table and race off to do something that isn't at all important. I'm afraid that he will do something terrible some day if we do not train him. And I don't know how to train him. Nothing I do does any good."

If the impulsive child is normal minded the impulse can be redirected and experience will teach him to control himself. Impulses cost too much if they run away with one. Trained to serve a purpose they are a great power for good.

The impulsive child is usually a generous lovable child. He is always sorry for the trouble he makes. He will listen to what is said to him about his fault and agree that he must try to do better. But he will make another mistake very soon and it seems that all training is useless.

Keep on teaching him. Go over each mistake with him, show him where it was wrong, where it hurt him and other folk. Caution him against letting his impulses behave like runaway horses that wreck their owners. Show him that these impulses are a force that he can control. Keep teaching him to hold back and think twice—ask himself, "Why am I doing this?" before he does it, and by and by, in time, he will build up sufficient resistance to impulses to steady him.

BIRTH OF WESTINGHOUSE

On Oct. 6, 1846, George Washinghouse, American inventor and engineer, famous for his invention of the air brake, was born at Central Bridge, N. Y.

His father was a large manufacturer of agricultural machinery and, brought up in this environment, George showed inventive and mechanical genius at an early age.

In the Civil war, young Westinghouse joined the Union army. Later he became assistant engineer in the United States navy. On his return to Schenectady, where he went to receive his elementary education, young Westinghouse entered Union college and attended to the end of his sophomore year.

At the age of 22 he introduced the Westinghouse air brake, now in universal use. He subsequently centered his attention on railroad improvements and made inventions in railway signals, steam and gas engines, steam turbines and electrical machinery. He was the pioneer in introducing into America alternating current machinery, which rendered possible the great development of water power for long distance electrical transmission.
